Foreword

TO mirror thru the medium of pen and lens the life at college of the class of 'twenty-eight; to recall pleasant memories of their classmates, instructors and Alma Mater. In memory of the years that have shaped our lives more than we can know; as a true reflection of the spirit that has predominated these years; the staff offers this book as a tangible memory of those years.

In a Library

By RICHARD E. BURTON

A wealth of silence; that is all. The air
Lacks life and holds no hint of tender spring,
Of flowers wholesome-blowing, of birds a-wing,
Of any creature much-alive and fair.

Perhaps you sense a murmur here and there
Among the tomes, each book a gossip-thing,
And each in her own tongue,—yet slumbering
Seems more the bookish fashion everywhere.

And yet, could but the souls take flesh again
That wrought the words, their hearts all passion swirled
What companies would flock and fill the stage,
Resuming now their old imperious reign,
Knight, noble, lady, priest, the saint, and sage,
The valor, bloom, and wisdom of a world.

Scorn not the library's dry, dusty air;
For him who looks adventure's waiting there.

History of the Library

THE SOUTHEAST corner room on the second floor of Chaminade Hall was the first University of Dayton Library. Sometime in the year of nineteen hundred and nine the books which were stored about the campus were taken to the first library and methodically shelved under the direction of Bro. Thomas Mooney.

This marked the first step in the direction of the "Greater University of Dayton." Books which were in the possession of the brothers were then for the first time at the disposal of the student body. Ever since those invaluable books were collected and placed in an available and convenient location the library has grown and expanded.

From time to time large gifts of books have been received. Small gifts are continually coming in, and the University has made expenditures for books and periodicals which are used as collateral reading in many of the courses. With the collection of books growing larger and larger, the library quarters had to move from place to place to accommodate the constant growth of the collection.

The library did not remain long on the second floor of Chaminade Hall. The students and brothers were cramped for room, since the quarters were used as a combination library and study hall. The next move was down to the north end of Chaminade; to the location which is at the present time occupied by the sophomore preps as their club room.

Books were continually coming in, more room was needed, so in the Fall of nineteen-seventeen the library made its second move over to the location which it occupies at the present time on the first floor of St. Marys Hall. This year will see the passing of the University of Dayton Library. In a short time the last move will be made to our Albert Emanuel Library. The Law Library which is situated on the second floor of Nazareth Hall at the present time will also move into the new structure.

The brothers that have served the library since its inception are: Bro. Thomas Mooney, nineteen-ten to nineteen-fifteen; Bro. John Gareis, nineteen-fifteen to the middle of nineteen-eighteen; Bro. Joseph Muench, August till January nineteen-nineteen; Bro. James Murphy, nineteen-nineteen to nineteen-twenty and Bro. F. Ruhlman nineteen-twenty to the present.

Sincere and heartfelt gratitude is the one response of student body and faculty alike to Victor Emanuel for his generous gift, which creates a situation that will no doubt prove an incentive for all, to greater efforts for personal and collective advancement, and which will continue to make history for the University of Dayton.

Library Plan Committee

THE CONSTITUTION of the Library Committee is really the crux of building. On their judgment rests the event of success or failure in planning. This major problem in the erection of the Albert Emanuel Library has ably been taken care of by our efficient Library Committee. After thoroughly acquainting themselves with the latest and most approved methods in library construction, they sought to incorporate these in the entire structure, keeping foremost in mind, economical management, ease of supervision and service to students. That their efforts have met with success may readily be judged by a cursory view of the plans adopted by this committee.

The central portion of the main floor comprises the delivery room, in which a spacious charging desk, the card catalog and bulletin boards are located. The north wing of the building contains a reading room on each floor with a combined seating capacity of 132 students. Provision for reserved books is made in the room on the main floor. The south wing comprises the periodical and cataloging rooms on the first floor and the law library and a seminar room on the upper floor. A lecture room with a capacity of approximately two hundred, occupies the central portion of the second floor. The stack room, located in the rear of the building, is six tiers high, and with the wall-shelving of the reading rooms, has a capacity of 80,000 volumes. Two hundred and twenty-five students can be accommodated in the various reading and periodical rooms at one time. Contrast this with our present library facilities of a reading room, accommodating sixty-six students and a stack room of 10,000 book capacity.

Mt. St. John Normal School

MT. ST. JOHN NORMAL SCHOOL is the central house of the Cincinnati Province of the Brothers of Mary. It is situated on the property known as Mt. St. John, where the Novitiate had already been located some years previous to its erection. The Normal School was formerly on the land of St. Mary's College and known as Nazareth. The quarters at Nazareth became inadequate and necessitated a removal.

An extensive structure was erected at Mt. St. John, and solemnly dedicated on September 16, 1915. For sixty-five years the Normal had been at old historic Nazareth.

The late Most Rev. Archbishop, Henry Moeller, dedicated the chapel in honor of our Mother of Good Council, and consecrated the high altar. Father L. Yeske and Father F. Kunnecke assisted his Grace, while Father B. P. O'Reilly was present in the sanctuary.

The structure is built in the form of the letter T with head and stem of about the length. The building is three stories throughout with basement and garret. The head of the T contains the apartments for Administration, Faculty, Scholasticate, and Postulate. The stem contains kitchen, dining rooms, the infirmary, the sleeping apartments of the Brothers, and the chapel. The building is fireproof, of modern design, and with all modern conveniences. The departments are well nigh perfectly grouped.

Mt. St. John Normal is a monument to the zeal with which the Brothers of Mary follow the principles exemplified in the saintly life of their founder.

The Chapel of St. John Normal School

A PLEASING spectacle and a harmony of ornamentation is the special delight of everyone who enters the chapel of the Mt. St. John Normal School. The chapel is located in this comparatively new structure.

The ensemble is well nigh perfect and it is difficult to single out details. There are three beautiful altars of the finest marble, with a communion railing to match. Stained glass windows and a set of artistic stations in relief are in keeping with the general beauty of the chapel. The confessionals and pews are of oak and of an ornamental design.

A feature is the beautiful two-manual organ, which can readily respond to the eloquence of any organist. A duplexing arrangement very ingeniously enables the performer to "borrow" quite a number of stops, and the multiplicity of effects able to be produced are astonishing on this small modern organ. It is located in a recess provided for it in the side of the chapel, near the sanctuary, as the choir is nearly always the entire assemblage. The console is so extended that the organ can be used as a chancel organ, should occasion require.

The bells are located in the structure and are of bronze. They are named St. Mary, St. Joseph, and St. John.

A very devotional atmosphere which the chapel creates serves to inspire all who enter therein, and is a source of aspirations and noble ideals to the candidates who are educated there. There are inspired and trained that select army of soldiers which upholds the banners of the heavenly Queen, and the emblems of Christianity.

A Message from the President

To the Class of 1928: I am pleased to have this occasion to give expression to my good wishes to the members of the Class of 1928 on the eve of their graduation from the University of Dayton. For four years you have lived in close association with your professors, co-operating with them to make the work of Christian Education a success. Your efforts will be crowned on Commencement Day.

Let me remind you, however, that the close of your college days will mark only the commencement of your educational career in the world. It is a popular illusion prevailing among some people today that the period of life devoted to education is limited to the years of adolescence. In a democracy, such as ours, where the government is "by the people," education should continue down through the mature years of manhood and old age, if our country is to preserve the fundamental principles presented to us in the Constitution by our forefathers.

Let me, therefore, appeal to you to continue your student career, interested in everything of religious and civic importance. Let me also appeal to you to be mindful of your Alma Mater, who guided you through the critical years of approaching manhood and who gave you a foundation upon which you can build successfully. I sincerely hope that we will in future years be able to list you among the most loyal as well as the most influential Alumni of the University of Dayton.

Devotedly yours,

Bernard P. O'Reilly, S. M.

President

REV. GEORGE J. RENNECKER, S. M.
Vice-President

Father Rennecker's academic and spiritual interest in the student body, has proven a great aid to all.

A Message from the Vice President

The year 1927-1928 marks a decided advance in the progress of the history of the University of Dayton. It has seen the further realization of the extension program. The completion of the Albert Emanuel Library and rearrangement of St. Mary Hall for administration offices, lecture rooms, physical and biological laboratories have given the College of Liberal Arts and Science a higher and wider academic standing. The professional and technical departments are consistently tending towards the highest recognized standards. The Colleges of Engineering are cooperating with the American Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education to establish and enforce uniform and excellent standards of efficiency. The College of Education with its full-time school at Mount St. John Normal and part-time school on the University campus is in full sympathy with the State Department of Education in its new and excellent requirements for the training of high school teachers. The opening of a full-time school of education on the campus is planned for the coming year. The College of Law by demanding a minimum of a two year pre-legal course has raised the scholarship of its students. Throughout the school the student body gives evidence of application, cooperation and sincerity in striving with Alma Mater after her aims of scholarship, service, patriotism and religion.

The University of Dayton Alumni Association

HREE component parts exist in every educational institution; and the future progress and successes of each individual institution of learning is conditioned by the inter-co-operation of each of these three factors, namely, the faculty or administration, the student body and the alumni association.

Each of these three divisions of university life has its own peculiar function to perform, its own "bit" to contribute to the health of the university. The alumni's part is a part of service, whole-hearted service equalled only by the sacrifices of the faculty who have given their lives that the students be the recipients of educational advantages.

The alumni service is a service of support, both morally and financially. A support which is motivated by gratitude to Alma Mater for her efforts in the alumni's behalf while the alumni were still lowly "studes" seeking knowledge and culture.

This ideal alumni association we are glad to state our own alumni are rapidly approaching. Some five or six years ago our University felt the need of immediate expansion. A new dormitory building was an urgent necessity and with this in view the University appealed to her alumni. The year 1924 saw the completion of Alumni Hall, one of the best equipped dormitories in the Middle West, a monument to the spirit of the Alumni of the University of Dayton.

Prior to this period of expansion, the U. of D. saw a normal growth and development, scholastically, while athletics were practically at a standstill. The year 1924, however, saw the rise also of athletic prowess at Dayton.

Here again the support of the alumni came to the fore. A group of loyal sons of Alma Mater, banded together as the Board of Lay Trustees, were the backbone of the movement which resulted in the new University of Dayton stadium, an athletic plant which ranks well up among those of other schools in the country. The stadium first saw service in the season of 1925.

Since that time the stadium has been used not only for University of Dayton events but for civic features as well, Pop Dayton realizing the advantages accruing to him as a result of the presence of the stadium.

Once again in 1927, the munificent generosity of an alumnus was manifested when Mr. Victor Emanuel of New York City and a graduate of the Prep Class of '15, became the donor of the University's new library building in virtue of a gift of $200,000. This library will be known as the "Albert Emanuel Library" and as such will be a memorial by young Victor to his father.

A new gymnasium is the current need of Dayton. With this in mind, the Fearless Order of Moots, under the leadership of Ned Grimes, have been discussing ways and means for financing a new gymnasium.

Morally, also, the alumni have lent support to Dayton. Enthusiastic University of Dayton clubs have been formed in Cincinnati, Detroit, Pittsburgh and Cleveland while other cities likewise hold smaller groups of Dayton boosters.

ALUMNI BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Fearless Order of Moots

STANDING in the forefront of campus activities is the Fearless Order of Moot. From its origin three years ago at the suggestion of Matt Flanigan and the Chicago and Dayton Alumni it has grown steadily until it has now an international reputation and is the most popular organization at the school.

Its motto is: "One for All and All for One—University of Dayton."

Officers of the organization are elected every two years. And in regard to officers it is peculiar to note that the Moots do not use the names of President, Vice-President, Secretary, etc., but have adopted a unique, original and innovated nomenclature for their Fearless Administrators.

The annual international convention of Moots from caves all over the country is held at the Dayton Cave at Commencement in June of every year. Initiations, ceremonies and various other spotty issues of great importance are discussed with much wind and relished with great interest by all Moots at this time.

Meetings at the Dayton Cave during the scholastic year are called by any Moot who lights in town and then—the Moots roar. Of course previous advice of the entry of a Brother Moot into Dayton is desired, because the preparations are arduous, and a better time will be had by all, if the Dayton Cave Administrators are advised.

Once a Moot always a Moot. Mootship carries with it an undying devotion to Alma Mater, a deathless fellowship and camaraderie between its members.

Throughout the country are numerous caves affiliated with the Dayton Cave of the Moots, the most prominent ones being in Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Cincinnati.

Meetings in other caves are conducted periodically and are always characterized by enthusiasm, whole-hearted interest in the U. of D.; above all, a never-say-die support of all activities sponsored by the University of Dayton.

Extension Department

*I*N KEEPING abreast with the extension plans and program which the University outlined several years ago, the Extension Department exists in looking after these affairs.

Every modern university readily realizes the urgent financial matters which regard the progress of the individual institution and in regard to these, the Extension Department of the University of Dayton is looking to the future for complete development.

The timely gift of the new library all the more hastens the purpose of the extension fund and with this appreciated gift, another building of the greater University of Dayton is eliminated from the thoughts of extension purposes.

The view of the remaining prospectus lies close to realization for the model in our school, and for the pledges being daily filled by faithful subscribers, the dreams of the graduates as well as the undergraduates and faculty will be gratefully fulfilled.

Not alone, however, must the burden of the program be attached to a few and born by the faithful of heart, but the co-operation of all alumni must be solicited and received.

Therefore, in the carrying out the aims of this work have the faithful efforts of Mr. Abel, Extension Director, been appreciated this year to further a cause so vital and important in establishing the University of Dayton as one of the foremost institutions of the middlewest.

ALMA MATER IS CALLING

Modio Maestoso

On mountain high and hill - side O'er meadow and thru dell In busy mart and hamlet where hearts their story tell A clarion voice is ring-ing It rises now it falls A-rouse ye sons of Day-ton Your Al-ma Mat-er calls When ev'ning red is blending With the blue of smiling Day Sweet Zephyrs weave the measure To a mother's magic lay Its accents soft and tender Our willing hearts enthral No earthly charm can stay us when'er we hear that call U D we hear you calling Fi del i tys the best Your stalwart sons all answer From North, South East & West With measured tread advancing Our emblem full in view We sound your praise & pledge our loyalty
To the Red and blue

*Dedicated to SENIORS
who struggled four years to attain their ideals, and, who eternally profess filial devotion to their Alma Mater*

CLASSES

RECEIVED
JAN 10 1907

A Toast

[from University of Virginia Magazine]

God fare you, merry gentlemen,
God keep you strong alway;
And ere we part, a stirrup cup
To this, my toast, with glasses up,
And none to say us nay!

A-down the jolly stream of life
May we all safely glide;
A friend—a loyal, lusty friend—
To joys and griefs divide;
A maid with curls of shimmering gold
And eyes of heaven's blue;
A glass to cheer the passing hour,
Sparkling like the sun-kissed dew!

May the friend be ever faithful,
The maid no sorrow blight,
The wine be good as this we quaff!
Merry gentlemen, good-night.

Senior Class History

Now that the pages of our collegiate history are sealed with the golden words FINIS, we can appropriately review, the experiences of our four colorful years on the campus.

In the month of September, 1924, there assembled at the University a group of aspiring young men the embryo of future leaders. They were indeed cosmopolitan, representing many sections of our own fair land and of distant shores. A keen observer upon entering the overcrowded office of the Registrar on that memorable autumn day, could point out a variety of personalities. There was the suave mannered debonair son of aristocracy. The modest, retiring red-cheeked lad from the country. The polished, refined fashion-cut boy whose cock-sure attitude spelled city. Then there was the trim athlete.

So the class of '28 was busily engaged in the duties, consisting of the selection of their curriculum, reporting for room assignments, scheduling classes and becoming acclimated to a life that was new. Acquaintances were made at this trying time which lasted throughout academic days and bid well to continue for life. Such was the activity of those early days, then—THE TASK. All were intensely eager to begin work in earnest toward a definite goal—COLLEGIATE EDUCATION. The echoes of the tolling bell had scarcely died away when the professors called the respective classes to order.

After several unsuccessful attempts to organize, the class of '28 was finally established on a firm basis. Many interesting meetings were held, and in the course of their spirited debates, many activities were planned and fostered. Activities that are at present living tributes to the untiring efforts of the present graduates.

True, excellence in scholastic activities, is the prime object of a really conscientious class, but a proportionate interest in extra curricular activities gives a class—BALANCE. This last factor was exemplified in large representations in Exponent work, News, Dramatics and Athletics. Our athletes synchronized the building expansion of the University by materially aiding the athletic expansion.

The beginning of our Sophomore year found a well organized class, attacking the problems at hand with renewed vigor and enthusiasm. The mantle of uncertainty was thrown off and we were looked upon as Lords. The first Annual Frosh parade was held to the dismay of the lowly Freshies. Smarting under the stinging defeat by the Sophomores they slowly wended their weary way back to the campus and found consolation in medical appliances.

The Stadium, in a blaze of glory, was dedicated by a victory over John Carroll, in this eventful year, many sensational battles were waged within the confines of this monument of sport, and when the dust of the season's battles had cleared away it found our goal still untrammelled by the cleats of our opponents.

The Oratorical Contest revealed the coming statesmanship of our forensic artists, and the year came to a fitting close with the staging of numerous social events.

As Juniors, steady, cultured, ever-mindful of our goal we made great strides. We were not as numerous, some having fallen by the wayside of the scholastic journey, consequently greater responsibilities faced us. We had to continue to uphold the precedences and standards set in our first two years.

The last chapter is now being written. Immediately upon reentering school for our last year, we organized the class. Officers were elected and the results were indeed gratifying. The organized class was then confronted with the various other Senior activities. The Annual Staff was elected, the ring committee started work with a vengeance, the Senior pictures were taken and with it all preliminary details prior to graduation were completed.

Looking over the social calendar, we recall many interesting evenings spent at our college dances. Outstanding among them was the fourth annual Monogram Dance. We are at present anticipating a Senior Farewell that will far eclipse any dance of like nature staged in former years.

Before these pages are closed it is in order to announce tidings of great joy. The Library building, a gratuitous gift of a loyal son of Dayton University, is completed. Victor Emanuel, the donator, will always be venerated by this graduating class, as a shining example, worthy of imitation. The Herald of good news also informs us that the school has been admitted to the North Central Association of Colleges, a tribute to the untiring efforts of our beloved Father Rennecker.

Finis, we have arrived at the turn of the road. We see our goal but it is hazy. Our vision is blurred not by physical weakness, but due to tears—yes, tears of joy and sorrow. Tears of joy because we have accomplished that for which we so earnestly and diligently labored—SCHOLASTIC SUCCESS. Tears of sorrow because the class of '28 those staunch sons of Dayton "U" must depart, each taking a different road. Roads that lead into the maelstrom of human activity, leaving far behind them the dear walls of their Alma Mater. Although we, the class of '28 will be separated by distance we will always be united in a bond that will be sacred, a bond of loyal alumni.

We pledge ourselves to emblazen our road of endeavors with the golden words of Dayton "U" and all the ideals that it fosters.

JOHN DEBESIS

DE WITT ASHTON

"Dee"

Dayton, Ohio

Our efficient student professor. While earning his degree he has also taken up the duties of a professor. To accomplish this and to keep up his high standard in class work was an achievement that spoke volumes of praise. You cannot help from succeeding, Dee.

Arts and Letters—Little Theatre Club; University Law Club; Oratory; Senior Farewell Dance Committee; Sodality.

JOHN F. BECKER

"John"

Dayton, Ohio

Just a pleasant, unassuming chap is John. He is interested in chain stores and it would not surprise us in the least to learn that this friend of ours has become the originator of a new chain. Good luck, John.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club.

GEORGE BECKER

"Beckie"

Dayton, Ohio

Tried and true. George most always knew the why and the wherefore of any discussion or any rule and holds out stubbornly for good legal reasons. This tenacity, George, assures your success.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

LAWRENCE A. BENTZ

"Larry"

Dayton, Ohio

Larry has recently been voted as the student who has done the most for the school and you are assured that the students did not go wrong in their choice. Larry is a hard working lad and has all the essential requisites for success in any endeavor. The 1928 Daytonian is a proof of his ability.

Commerce and Finance—Tennis '27, Captain '28; Daytonian Editor-in-Chief; Exponent; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Commerce Club; Football Dance Committee.

ROBERT W. BERGAN

"Bob"

Peoria, Illinois

All the characteristic, wide awake traits of the Irish are present in Bob and he is one of the most spontaneous wits on the campus. Bob was as good a basketball manager as anyone would wish to have and if he handles his affairs as competently as he did the basketball team, we are sure of his future success.

Arts and Letters—U. D. News; Annual Staff; Little Theatre Club; Basketball Manager, '28; Sodality.

LINUS B. BOEKE

"Ben"

St. Henry, Ohio

"Silent" Linus is a strict believer in the passage in Scripture which says, "Thou must account for every idle word spoken," hence he speaks only when necessary. Ben was never known to miss a little trip to Wyoming Street every Wednesday and Sunday night in his senior year. What power he has over women.

Commerce and Finance—Football, '24 '25, '26, '27; Commerce Club; Sodality; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.

IRWIN C. BESCH

"Erve"

Dayton, Ohio

Erve is a fellow that we have always admired for his sincerity. It takes real ability to get Chemical Engineering before it gets you and he shows us that he has it. Some baseball manager and the first benedict in the crowd. Best wishes to you—and the Mrs.

Chemical Engineering—Baseball Manager, '28; Engineers Club.

JOHN A. BRAMLAGE

"John"

Covington, Kentucky

A quiet, unassuming fellow. The old proverb, "still waters run deep," holds true in this case, for John has been the leader of his class for four years. An earnest worker, but still has some time for pleasure. A likable fellow, a steady boy.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Sodality.

JOHN C. BRUCK

"Jack"

St. Louis, Missouri

If on life's stage, Jack affords his audience as much pleasure as he has given to us with his dramatic work of the last four years, then success is just bound to follow his endeavors. Jack's main characteristics are, a likable disposition, writing letters to "somebody" and getting good results from anything he undertook.

Electrical Engineering—Little Theatre Club; Engineers Club; Exponent; Annual Staff; Sodality.

JAMES A. BURKHARDT

"Burkie"

Dayton, Ohio

Burkie's engineering degree has been of untold value to him in helping him to measure the points of any case with a keenness which is uncanny. Cool and unperturbed, we hope one day to read decisions which have been rendered by him.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

MICHAEL J. BURGER

"Mike"

Brooklyn, New York

Now you are reading about a student. I mean a boy, that knows his stuff when it comes to studies, and its as natural with him as respiration. No book worm by any means, he just grew that way. And another thing, his head will not swell when he reads this.

Electrical Engineering—Little Theatre Club; Senior Farewell Committee; Sodality.

JOHN J. BUYER

"John"

Dayton, Ohio

Here is really an ambitious student. John, besides struggling for his Arts and Letters degree, attends the College of Law and the College of Education. He is contemplating entering the Harvard Law School next fall and we wish him lots of success.

Arts and Letters—Second Lieut. Inf. Res.

JOHN E. CARROLL

"Johnny"      Chattanooga, Tennessee

John has that something that endears him to all with whom he comes in contact. To his wonderful personality, diplomacy, strength of mind and character we attribute his prominence in leadership. Ever a brilliant and serious student and it is our hope that life rewards him for all his sincere effort.

Civil Engineering—Tennis '26, Capt. '27, '28; Am. Soc. C. E.; Glee Club; Sodality; Little Theatre Club; Annual Staff.

JOHN J. DEBESIS

"Debby"      Cleveland, Ohio

Here is one of our best examples in the class of what is known as a versatile man. Debby was recently voted as the best athlete on the campus and he has really lived up to that reputation. He was a star in three sports, and in studies, and social activities he had his share of honors.

Civil Engineering—Am. Soc. C. E.; Football '24, '25, '26, '27; Basketball '25, '26, '27, Capt. '28; Baseball '25, '26, '27, '28; Sodality.

W. GRANT DAVIS

"Dave"      Dayton, Ohio

Dave can get more joy out of life than most any two fellows, and his best trait is passing it on to everybody. With a personality like this, combined with the studious side of his make up, when Dave gets going he will travel far on the road to success.

Electrical Engineering—Engineers Club.

RODRIGUEZ J. DIAZ

"Blue Beard"      Coah, Mexico

Joe was so quiet at times that you began to wonder if he was still on hand. Then to assure you that he was, he would pop up with a wise crack that usually injured a few ribs permanently. Senior Jose sure knows his fencing foils, and oh how the ladies admired his moustache!

Electrical Engineering—Spanish American Club; Engineers Club; Sodality.

JOSEPH D. DONISI

"Roundie"

Middletown, Ohio

Roundie likes his fun but, as we have found out, can take up the serious side of any problem ranging from engineering to sociology. His sunny disposition has made for him many friends during his Prep and College years here. May you take on success like Lindy took on mileage, Mussolini.

Civil Engineering—Am. Soc. C. E.; Glee Club; Annual Staff; Sodality.

CLARENCE A. FRIEMERING

"Casey"

Minster, Ohio

To let the other man talk is Casey's distinguishing characteristic. Very little of his time is taken up by conversation but when he does open up we know what he says is reliable. It would be hard to find him without a pleasant smile and his personality will carry him far.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Sodality.

THOMAS E. GALLAGHER

"Tom"

Cleveland, Ohio

A good student, a good athlete, and a good mixer. With his ready Irish wit, Tom was well liked by all, including the "Dean." Although Tom was actively engaged in football and baseball, his main activity was heart-breaking and he even went as far north as Marion, Ohio, to complete his work.

Commerce and Finance—Football '24, '25, '26, '27; Baseball '25, '26, '27, Capt. '28; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Glee Club; Annual Staff; Little Theatre Club.

MORRIS M. GITMAN

"Mose"

Dayton, Ohio

Modest as he is, Mose always claimed that his only bid for fame was his brother's football ability and the fact that he was interested in bananas. Nevertheless, his forensic ability was an invaluable help to the debating team.

Arts and Letters—Debating.

LOUIS H. GITZINGER

"Lew"

Dayton, Ohio

Lew has the "it" in ability. He is a real fellow with a gentlemanly self assurance, blended with a modest reserve is going to make us proud to have numbered him among us. And the way he always knocked off those nineties, Oh Boy!

Mechanical Engineering—Glee Club; Engineers Club; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Senior Farewell Committee; Sodality.

CHESTER J. GRAHAM

"Chet"

Dayton, Ohio

The brain cannot be measured by ones physical size. Chet has always been able to grasp difficult legal problems which often times overshadowed his size.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

JAMES J. GRACE

"Jimmy"

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

The pride of Philly and our rip-roaring varsity full back. Jim's Irish smile sure will be missed at the University next year. His old fighting spirit will carry him far in life's battle. Carry on Jim, Dayton U. is for you.

Arts and Science—Football '24, '25, '26, '27; Glee Club; Little Theatre Club; Sodality.

HERBERT Y. HART

"Swede"

Chicago, Illinois

Swede holds a place in all our hearts, athlete extraordinary and is one of our leaders. Herb could be serious, was industrious and always will be a gentleman. Our sincerest wishes for success, Herb.

Commerce and Finance—Football '24, '25, '26, '27; Track '26, '27, Capt. '28; Commerce Club; Senior Farewell Committee.

HOWARD L. HARTMAN

"Howard"

Dayton, Ohio

Howard has that indefinable something that makes us all like him. He has been an ideal student and we can only hope that virtue will be adequately rewarded and that we shall have occasion to meet him frequently in the future.

Arts and Letters—Debating.

GERALD A. HERBISON

"Gerry"

Cleveland, Ohio

Another silent worker. Gerry was always busy and always for the school. It is this type of man who really gives the school something. Socially, he was a "bear." Keep going Gerry for success is awaiting you.

Arts and Letters—Exponent; U. D. News; Commerce Club; Little Theatre Club; Sodality.

SAMUEL V. K. HIPA

"Sam"

Honolulu, Haw.

Yes, if we had an archery team Sam would have made it. He is our four sport, laughing, likable boy from Hawaii. "Hipa" in "U. D. Sports" could title a many page volume, and it would be some story to relate. We will always remember that McGarry to Hipa pass that seldom failed. We like his tenor and think that he can Hula with the best of them.

Civil Engineering—Football '23, '24, '25, '26; Basketball '24, '25, '26, Capt. '27; Baseball '24, '25, '26, '27; Track '24, '25, '26, '27; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Sodality.

KAM HEE HO

"Ho"

Honolulu, H. T.

He was noted for his regularity in class. Not once in his four years with us has he been seen coming in late for class and it was very unusual for him to miss a class. Ho was very much esteemed by his classmates and we can all vouch for his wonderful personality.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Little Theatre Club.

JOHN P. HOCHADEL

"John"

Girard, Ohio

Unassuming and unpretentious "John" stands well up in his studies, and finds a place in the heart of every one of us. John has a seriousness of purpose which bids well to place him high in the list for future success. While not engaged in athletic events, he was a constant and loyal supporter of the Red and Blue, and always a willing worker. One would have to go a long way to find a truer friend and companion.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Annual Staff; Football Dance Committee; Sodality.

W. HAROLD KAPPELER

"Kap"

Dayton, Ohio

Kap is another who was very instrumental to the success of the 1928 Daytonian. He is a student who would be a typical Daytonian, an ideal student and a perfect gentleman. His ever glowing personality and generosity in the days before him will be stepping stones in the road to success.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Annual Staff; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Senior Farewell Committee.

JOSEPH H. JANNING

"Joe"

Dayton, Ohio

Joe left us for a year but on his return back he has been doing excellent work. When Joe gets out in the world he won't miss that year he lost in college because he has made up his mind to make up that year, this year.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club.

JOHN H. KOORS

"Johnny"

Dayton, Ohio

Johnny was with us back in '25 when he finished his pre-medical work. Last year he decided that he wasn't destined for that profession, but for one of a financier and if he keeps up his excellent work he will not be far off his expectations.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Sodality; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.

WALTER C. KRAFT

"Whitey"

Marion, Ohio

Whitey has that knack of pointing out the sunny side of things. With a cool judgment and spontaneous cheerfulness he has enriched the school days of his numerous friends. Marion will boast of Whitey in the years to come for we are all confident that he will reach the goal he has set.

Commerce and Finance—President of Commerce Club; Annual Staff; Sodality.

JOSEPH F. MALONEY

"Joe"

Dayton, Ohio

Business and law are closely akin. Joe symbolized this by the fact that after securing his commerce degree he studied law. Such a foundation is sure one day to put you in the front ranks.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

HENRY J. VOLLMER, JR.

"Dutch"

St. Marys, Pennsylvania

Dutch is one of the triumvirate that presides in a third floor suite in Alumni Hall. His easy going disposition has made him many friends here in Dayton and he is sure to be heard from in the future if hard work and ability mean anything. Dutch plans a medical career and that he will attain the heights of his profession we have no doubts.

Arts and Science—Sodality; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.

MATTHEW J. MARZLUFT

"Mat"

Dayton, Ohio

One of the hardest workers who has ever enrolled at the University. Mat has been active in everything. He has the distinction of being, not only a good athlete, but also a good student. His fellow students have shown their faith in him by electing Mat secretary of the Monogram Club and of the Senior Class.

Commerce and Finance—Football '24, '25, '26, '27; Track '26, '27, '28; U. D. News; Glee Club; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Senior Farewell Committee.

JOHN T. MAXWELL

"Jack"

Cleveland, Ohio

The fifth city has sent us some fair specimens for our commerce course, but Jack is the fairest of them all. Such was the result of the popularity contest. His forte in sports is track, Dayton's foremost sprinter. At dances, Jack has the uncanny ability to pick winners.

Commerce and Finance—Track '26, '27, '28; Commerce Club; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Farewell Dance Committee.

JOHN V. MCGARRY

"Jock"

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

He was the smartest athlete the school has ever known and he sure will be missed by his team-mates and the followers of the University. Jock takes up the duties of head coach at West Philly Catholic High next year and if he drives his charges as he drives a Franklin here, he will be the greatest coach in the country.

Arts and Letters—Football '24, '25, '26, Capt. '27; Basket ball '24, '25; Baseball '26, '27, '28; President Senior Class; Annual Staff; Sodality.

ROBERT T. MCCLEAR

"Hoople"

Detroit, Michigan

The Major, as he is known to his host of many friends, is a jewel of the first waters. Always busy but never too busy to aid a friend, is Hooples endearing manner. If you have any doubts as to his coming success, just turn back and recall how he handled that Intramural Basketball League. It takes a good man to do that.

Arts and Letters—Football '25, '26, '27; Track Manager '28; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Captain Rifle Team; Intramural Manager.

EDGAR B. MEYER

"Eggs"

Dayton, Ohio

A thorough student and a staunch friend. His greatest work was done on the Exponent and through his efforts the magazine was replaced again on the high plane it once occupied. Do as well with everything and your success will be assured.

Arts and Letters—Editor-in-chief of Exponent; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Rifle Team; Senior Farewell Committee.

ARTHUR W. MEYRING

"Art"

Dayton, Ohio

Art takes nothing for granted, a true quality of any lawyer and this trait combined with his many other fine characteristics make him for a man among men.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

HUBERT A. MIEHLS

"Bullet"

Fort Jennings, Ohio

Bullet is a lad who combines a resistless friendly spirit with a jovial disposition and pleasing manner. His line which went over so big with school teachers will surely aid him in reaching the top of the ladder.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Sodality.

ALPHONSE A. MOELLER

"Al"

Dayton, Ohio

There is much to be said of Al but space is limited. Suffice it to say that here we have a true, deliberate type, one whose outside experience, coupled with his legal training, will surely accomplish much.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

EDWARD L. MURPHY

"Husky"

Cincinnati, Ohio

There is a current of wit and humor bubbling along in every minute of this young man's life. If he ever had a gloomy moment he never let us know about it. He really knows his electric too. We hope you get what we think you deserve, and that's all kinds of big success.

Electrical Engineering—Glee Club; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Engineers Club; Sodality.

WILLIAM A. NUNN

"Pop"

Cleveland, Ohio

Pop was a very active student on the campus and was always ready to assist in any extra curricular activity. In his last year he was the efficient trainer of our football heroes. He was president of the Glee Club and also took an active part in their initial performance. Pop is always on the go and how he cripples the hearts of the weaker sex.

Commerce and Finance—Football '23, '24, '25, '26; Glee Club; Commerce Club; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Annual Staff.

JOSEPH J. O'CONNOR

"Joe"

Marion, Ohio

Joe was one of the Dean's most brilliant students, even though he did favor "red-heads." Behind a sharp tongue lay a true friend, one as is seldom found. If his future success can be based on his ability as an advertising manager of the Daytonian, there are sure great things in store for him.

Commerce and Finance—Commerce Club; Advertising Manager of '28 Daytonian; Senior Farewell Committee; Sodality.

ROBERT J. O'BRIEN

"Bob"

Canton, Ohio

Yes, Bob is that pleasant, good-hearted and jovial man about the campus, an exemplary student and a conscientious professor. Besides all this he has always been an excellent student. Such sterling qualities cannot but assure your success in life, Bob.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club; Debating Team; U. D. News; Professor in Preparatory Department.

JOSEPH S. PESCE

"Joe"

Norfolk, Virginia

The time comes when we all must part, and will the students miss our peppy cheer leader? I'll say so and how. All varsity men knew Joe for he was right there and kept the students cheering until the last play of the game. May the world cheer you as you have cheered others.

Electrical Engineering—Baseball '25, '26, '27, '28; Cheer Leader '25, '26, '27, '28; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Sodality.

NELSON E. PHILLIPS

"Phil"

Cleveland, Ohio

Phil was a mighty busy man the first part of the year with the duties of football manager on his shoulders but he still had enough time to excel in all his studies. If he discharges his duties in life as well as his football managerial duties he is well on his way to success.

Chemical Engineering—Football Manager '28; Engineers Club; Football Dance Committee; Sodality.

JOSEPH F. REIS

"Joie"

Columbus, Ohio

What a little bundle but plenty of ambition, grit and perseverance. Joie is the man who made the lights dim and bright on the stage. We never heard him find fault with anyone or anything and we are convinced of his personality.

Electrical Engineering—Glee Club; Little Theatre Club; Engineer's Club; Senior Farewell Committee; Sodality.

ALFRED W. ROTHENBERG

"Squire"

Dayton, Ohio

Squire has striven hard to subdue the "Jealous Mistress" not only theoretically but actually. With his faithful pipe for a companion, we feel safe in predicting that Alf will be a hard man to keep down.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

FRANK WILLIAMS

"Frank"

Dayton, Ohio

Ever quick, always ready, and with a perception to pick out the most in any assignment. These attributes are enough to assure us that Frank with the Master Degree that he has just received is going to make himself heard.

THOMAS H. RYAN

"Tom"

Dayton, Ohio

Smiling, carefree, happy, and contented Tom. That in a few words sums up all the characteristics of this jovial, handsome son of old "Erin." Tom will continue in the college of law after having completed his work in the college of Arts and Letters.

Arts and Letters—Law Club; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Sodality.

VINCENT H. SCHROEDER

"Vinnie"

St. Louis, Missouri

Vin just naturally makes good friends wherever he goes. His smile seems to work just as well with the fair sex also. He has big ambitions and has by his work during his college days laid a real foundation upon which to build to attain them. We think a lot of Vinnie and wish him all success.

Civil Engineering—Am. Soc. C. E.; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Sodality.

LEE E. SCHEID

"Count"

Dayton, Ohio

Lee is one of these hard working Civil Engineers, and that implies a lot. All his fellow engineers think very much of him. Lee is earnest in work or play and we think that if he keeps it up, it will be he on the big end of Dayton's grade crossing problem or something as big.

Civil Engineering—Am. Soc. C. E.; Glee Club; Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Sodality.

JACK SEMMELMAN

Dayton, Ohio

If you were to ask us to point out a student who would be typical of Dayton "U" we would give you the pleasure of making his acquaintance. We hope that it will be our pleasure to bask in the radiance of his personality and generosity in the days before us.

Education—Assistant Professor Chemistry, Steele Hi.

THEODORE SHARPENTER

"Shorty"

Aurora, Illinois

No one that could boast of such height, has ever passed through the portals of this seat of learning. A good student, a congenial and smiling disposition, always ready to aid the other fellow, are qualities that make this son of the golden west a very popular student.

Commerce and Finance—Football '24, '25, '26, '27; Basketball '26, '27, '28; Baseball '25, '26, '27, '28; Commerce Club; Glee Club.

RICHARD C. SHERER

"Dick"

Dayton, Ohio

He found time to speak to us even though he was rushed with work. Just a gentleman who smiles, listens, judges and then acts promptly. Dick succeeded in getting to Philosophy class on time during the last half so he must be especially complimented on that.

Mechanical Engineering—Engineers Club; Sodality.

RALPH M. SPAHR

"Ralph"

Xenia, Ohio

So far as knowledge goes, Ralph's chief interest is in his studies. Regular as a clock, he always performed his work with such thoroughness and carefulness that little time was left for the frills of college life.

Arts and Letters—Second Lieut. Inf. Res.

JAMES SPENCER

"Jim"

Kamuela, H. T.

What a warrior those sunshine islands have sent us. A mighty wow of football fame. Jim, is quite some coach too. He was the pilot for our crack 1931 varsity embryo squad. A good student, a thinker, and above all a gentleman.

Commerce and Finance—Football '24, '25, '26, '27; Track '26, '27, '28; Infantry Reserve; Little Theatre Club; Freshman Football Coach.

GILBERT H. STALLKAMP

"Gil"

Delphos, Ohio

A real friend in whose company we dare to be ourselves. He worked hard under the watchful Brother Rappel and is assured of success in the future. Gil was a cadet Captain in the R. O. T. C. and discharged his duties in a manner creditable to himself and his alma mater.

Electrical Engineering—Infantry Reserve; Engineers Club; Glee Club; Sodality.

SIDNEY E. TROUARD

"Sid"

New Orleans, Louisiana

Here is a capable boy. Diminutive in size, but with a big smile and a happy word for everybody. Sid set a scholastic record for his four years that the rest of the engineers found it hard to overshoot. We all hope that the good work goes on and even gets better.

Electrical Engineering—Engineers Club; Annual Staff; Sodality.

RALPH M. STUTZ

"Prez"

Dayton, Ohio

Our deboniar president, one whose brain is ever keen and active, one who is always interested in helping the other fellow. With these qualities, Ralph, you will surely climb to invisible heights.

College of Law—Varsity Law Club.

JOSEPH H. WALTER

"Pole"

St. Louis, Missouri

Joe was the intellectual leader of the Civil Engineering class. Pole joined us after completing two years at Chaminade College. He made himself known on the campus by specializing in the activities of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Good luck, Joe.

Civil Engineering—Am. Soc. C. E.; Sodality.

NORVAL A. WENZEL

"Norv"

Dayton, Ohio

Music hath charms. What a charming fellow Norv is. He makes Henry Lange the proverbial leach when he nimbly runs his fingers over the ivories of his Stienway. In other words, he plays jazz with the best of them. One must meet and converse with him to really appreciate his depth of thought and winning personality.

Second Lieut. Inf. Res.; Sodality.

WALTER W. ZOLG

"Wally"

Toledo, Ohio

Wally the "baby" of the class, but only in years and not the least bit young when the need arises. He is keen of mind, has a personality that is radiant and is one who is to go far in life and will achieve a degree of success which will be enviable.

*College of Law--Varsity Law Club;
Professor of English in Preparatory Department; Annual Staff.*

UNDERCLASSMEN

(Pardon This, Tennyson!)

Broke! broke! broke!

All thro' my college days,
And I would my tongue could tell
Of the bills my father pays.

Oh, well for the high-school lad
When he works both night and day;
Oh, well for the freshman too,
Till he learns to be smooth and gay.

And the sporty days pass by
With old debts enlarged by new;
But oh, to be square with the world again,
And free from the duns of the Jew!

Broke! broke! broke!

Oh, be kind to our mournful plea,
For the pleasing touch of the cash that's gone
Will never return to me.

Junior Class History

THE YEAR 1925 witnessed the admittance to the University of the largest Freshman Class in the history of the school and the quality therein represented was in no way subordinate to the quantity.

It did not take long for the class of '29 to become acclimated to the rare atmosphere surrounding the University and it started in to work out its destiny with speed and determination.

Though not having the credit of starting the Freshman tradition, the coming first year men can thank or blame the Class of '29 for the completeness with which it is being carried out at present. The first representative caps were secured by the present Junior Class.

Our Freshman year also witnessed the dedication of the University Stadium, which is indeed a monument to the athletic progress of the University.

Athletes of the Class of '29 have been well represented on the various athletic teams of the Red and Blue and have done much to carry the standard of the Flyers in athletics ever higher and higher. The Class of '29 was the first to be subjected to the one year ruling before being eligible to play and the Frosh teams in football and basketball that came about as a result of that ruling were a big help for getting the Varsity in shape for their games by their scrimmages and daily drills.

The end of the football season in our sophomore year found ten of the Class of '29 being awarded the coveted "D" for their excellent work in the fall pastime. Basketball found two more second year men receiving their letter for their work on the court and baseball was the opportunity for six more members of the present Junior Class to be ranked among the athletic heroes of the school. This is indeed an excellent record for men participating in their first year of intercollegiate competition and is indicative of the spirit and fight that the Class of '29 has displayed throughout its various endeavors.

WILLIAM REYNOLDS

Not content with shining only in athletics, the Class of '29 has been the backbone of almost every organization on the campus. No matter what the field the present Junior Class has been in the foreground, doing its best to keep the machine of the University gliding smoothly forward on its road of progress.

The Commerce Club, Debating Club, Officers Club, Monogram Club and almost all others have a majority of Juniors in their enrollment.

The Debating team was resurrected in the third year of our reign, composed mostly of members of the Junior Class, and enjoyed a wonderful season under the capable direction of Brother Lawrence Boll.

The various literary organizations on the campus numbered quite a few members of the Class of '29 on the various staffs. The Exponent, The News and Publicity Department had many of their contributions from the Junior Class.

The Glee Club was born in our Junior year and gave its first frolic with great success, with many Junior members contributing to its well being.

Despite the fact that the Junior Class has taken such a very great interest in athletics, they did not forget what they came here to school for, namely, to get an education. Consequently the scholastic averages of the various departments were above the average and in the recent popularity contest a Junior, Grisez, was voted the most studious. Another Junior, Wilcox was elected the most popular, Freitas the most cultured, and Bauman the Campus Clown.

The Junior Class has been extremely fortunate in its officers and much of the good work that the Class has accomplished is directly traceable to their guidance. Patrick Wilcox has been president for the last two years, along with Reynolds, Keating and Frank Macklin who has acted in the capacity of Treasurer. Macklin was in charge of the rings and discharged his work in a very satisfactory manner.

With the fine organization and indomitable spirit that the Junior Class has shown so far, their outlook for a brilliant year is very bright.

Sophomore Class History

THE HISTORY of the Class of '30 properly begins with our entrance to the University in September of '27. Our High School days were over and naturally we felt proud, but not for long. The Sophs deemed it their duty to show us our humble rank, and proceeded to do so in a very impressive manner. Remember the Freshman Parade, and that long dash down Memory Lane?

Serious work began at once. The Frosh football team was the best ever. More willing or better material could not be asked for and the results obtained will bear out this statement.

Greater interest was manifested in the Basketball League than ever before. The ability of our team was the talk of the campus. Everyone was enthusiastic, and the last game in which our green team lost the championship to the veteran seniors still remains a topic of discussion.

Encouraged by our successes in athletics we entered the intramural Track Meet in high spirits. And did we win? Our total score was more than double that of our closest competitor.

Our successes were not confined to athletics, however. Oh, no. We were too cosmopolitan and varied a group to be bound by such narrow limits. If you were to see some of our records in the classroom you would imagine that a few of our members were even intelligent.

The Dramatic Club secured several valuable and promising recruits from our ranks. The debating team likewise was strengthened by an influx of new members. In all it was a very successful year and when viewed in the light of history no doubt we can all say it was also a very pleasant year.

After a few short and fleeting months we again wended our way to Dayton, but this time we felt as if we were a vital part of the school, and as time was to prove we were a potent factor in all activities on the campus.

FRANCIS MARSHALL

GEORGE WEED

Old familiar faces, and new ones, too. The warm handclasp of our friends, and the timid looks on the Yearlings combined to add to our pleasure. Yes it is nice to be a Sophomore. The Freshmen looked nice in their pretty green caps, and then the "DAY" was coming.

In spite of heavy rains early in the evening and a general dampness a large crowd turned out to see the newcomers strut their stuff.

It was a beautiful parade, and the program put on at the courthouse was well received by the citizens of our fair city. To say the least the Frosh were deeply impressed.

The more serious side of college life now came in for consideration. It took a little while to get accustomed to the grind again, but enough recreation to keep us interested was afforded by the football team. Fully a score of the varsity men were Sophomores, and a goodly number of them won their coveted monogram.

Our great basketball team of last year was now broken up to form the backbone of the varsity squad. And what a record these boys made! Truly no one can deny that with another year's experience they will be unbeatable.

Proving that history repeats itself our harriers again stepped too fast for the other classes and easily won the Intramural Track Meet for the second time in as many years. No other class that ever attended the University can lay claim to such a distinction.

We think this is a very appropriate place to mention the Black Guard Fusileers R. O. L., a very active organization formed by the Sophomores to increase interest in military matters in the R. O. T. C.

In concluding let us state that the Class of '30 has always, and will always back every movement sponsored by the school, and that this support, as we have just shown you, is more than verbal.

Next year we will have another message for you and meantime you who would make history for your class do your best to follow the road blazed by the men of 1930.

Freshman Class History

THE class of 1931, officially entered the University of Dayton on September 13th, 1927. One hundred and fifty Freshmen were registered—fifty entered Engineering, forty-five the College of Commerce and Finance, thirty-five in the Arts and Science, and twenty in the Pre-Medical.

For the first few months the Frosh were the real campus workers, trunks, rugs, books, lamps, and various other paraphernalia were carried over several square miles of territory. The wearing of the little green pots was inaugurated in less than a week and the Freshmen were by far the most conspicuous element on the campus.

Sophomore meetings were events that were dreaded, but were nevertheless attended by the members of the class. It was during such meetings that the noble art of carving paddles was annexed to the Freshman curriculum.

The first real Freshman class meeting was held September 20th, under the direction of William Keane, Sophomore president. In the election that took place, Joseph Stermer was elected president, and Fred Giesler, secretary. Other matters of importance concerning the activities of the class were discussed at subsequent meetings.

The annual initiation took place October 15th, and was a huge success from both a Sophomore and a Freshman viewpoint. John Gerlach was master of ceremonies and handled the situation proficiently. The festivities started with a short opening talk by Joseph Stermer. Edward "Pooch" Lloyd imitated "Miss America," while Joseph Neville, as "Little Red Riding Hood's Grandmother," brought forth loud applause. A Hawaiian Quartet received many praises for their songs and dance numbers. The final and closing event of the evening was the gauntlet which proved to be, "The Long Lane Without a Turning."

The Freshman welcome dance, sponsored by the Seniors, was well attended and the Freshmen extend the Senior class a vote of thanks for the manner in which this dance was conducted.

Freshman football was coached by two former varsity luminaries, Samuel Hipa and James Spencer. The first call found sixty-five men on hand for practice. However, towards the end of the season after a careful seeding by the coaches, the squad had dwindled to two full teams. Many long and hard scrimmages were held, and it is the hope of the Freshman class that they have contributed in some manner a little towards the success of the 1927 Varsity eleven.

FRED GIESLER

Noteworthy among the Frosh players were Joe Cabrinha, brother of the famous "Cabby," Turp Grimes of Lake Forest Academy, Sackwitz and Warton from the Hawaiian Islands. Smythe and "Skeeds" Komoroski, of Toledo Central, and a sprinkling of former stars from Cathedral Latin, and the University of Dayton Prep Highs. However, all Freshmen who were on the team deserve credit for their splendid efforts and are to be congratulated for their achievements.

The class was also very active at the various football games, either acting as ushers, working in the press box, or selling programs.

The Debating Club which is making such splendid strides also numbers four Freshmen among its members in the capacity of Frederick Dove, Howard Sachs, Earnest Williams and Joseph Neville. Its success by the way is due to the proficient tutelage of Brother Lawrence Boll, and the splendid cooperation of its members.

The members of the newly organized International Relations Club are mostly Freshmen. The club, although newly formed, is progressing at a rapid pace under the direction of Father Charles Preisinger. The work of this club is of a very interesting nature and in the coming years should surpass all other clubs both in membership and activity.

Notable work is being done along the line of publicity by Andy Cunningham and George Janko. These gentlemen have sacrificed much of their time in bringing before the eyes of the student body its college papers and various literary issues.

The Freshmen also entered two teams in the Intramural League this year. One represented the resident student body while the other represented the non-resident students. The lack of a complete representative Freshman team was due to the spring football training season.

The Glee Club of this year also numbers among its members a majority of Freshmen. The success of the Club has thus far been assured due to the ability of its director, Daniel Donovan, and the cooperation of the entire student body.

Looking ahead for the coming years, the prospects are encouraging, and campus activities should take on a greater air of importance with the introduction of new vitality into the spirit of the University. We can expect much from our coming Sophomore classes both in athletics and in a literary way. Their school spirit is their heart beat, and they have their whole heart behind their every activity. Watch them go!

ATHLETICS

REV. FRANCIS J. KUNNECKE, S. M.
Chairman Athletic Board

Forward lies the goal, and Father Kunnecke has always had this in mind in regards to Dayton's athletic policies.

ATHLETIC BOARD

Here we have the ones responsible for the continued success of Dayton on the athletic map. Their work may not be readily seen, but nevertheless it is there.
 Last year's results are their monuments.

True in his religious principles, a loving husband and father, faithful to his Alma Mater, need any more be said.

JOHN G. BODIE, S. M.
Athletic Director

Back of every success there is a reason, and Brother Bodie made possible athletic supremacy by his splendid cooperation and teamwork.

HARRY C. BAUJAN
Head Coach

As a builder of successful athletic teams, Harry has brought to the University of Dayton widespread recognition.

GEORGE M. FITZPATRICK
Assistant Coach

In his first year with us, 'Fitz' by his untiring efforts and pleasant personality, has won a well-deserved place in the hearts of the student body.

To the Men Who Hold the Line

By W. F. BARRON

Oh, the fullback bows to the cheering crowd,
And the halves, and the quarter, too,
And the praise ascends to the plucky ends
Who fight for the red and blue;
To none so great do I dedicate
This poor little verse of mine—
But here's to those in the fighting rows,
To the men who hold the line!

You watch the game and you'll all exclaim:
"Just look at that fellow run!"
And you'll shout and roar when the struggle's o'er
That the game was only won
By the fullback's pluck in that splendid buck
That carried him to the goal;
But you don't see fit to think a bit
Of the man who made the hole.

THE UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON FLYERS INAUGERATED THEIR CURRENT FOOTBALL SEASON HERE THIS AFTERNOON IN THE MOST AUSPICIOUS STYLE ROUTING FINDLAY COLLEGE BY A SCORE OF 66-0-

THE BAUJANITES UNLOOSED THEIR SCORING MACHINE AT THE VERY OUTSET OF THE GAME AND FROM THE OPENING WHISTLE IT WAS JUST A QUESTION OF HOW MANY POINTS THE DAYTON TEAM WOULD PILE UP AGAINST THE VISITORS-

THE GAME WAS DEVOID OF ANY THRILLS OTHER THAN THOSE ACCOMPANYING THE NUMEROUS SCORES-HOWEVER THE GAME PRESENTED THE NEW COACHING COMBINATION BAUJAN AND FITZPATRICK AND A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY TO LOOK OVER THE MATERIAL THAT WOULD BE AVAILABLE FOR SERVICE IN THE STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN THAT FOLLOWS THE INITIAL SKIRMISH-

THE UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON FLYERS BROUGHT THEIR SEASON TO A MOST SUCCESSFUL CLOSE BY ROBBING WITTENBERG OF THE OHIO CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP HERE TODAY BY A 7-3 VERDICT IN ONE OF THE MOST THRILLING GAMES EVER STAGED IN THE LOCAL STADIUM-

IT WAS A TRICK PLAY WITH MC GARRY AND SWAN AS PRINCIPLES THAT PAVE THE WAY FOR JIMMY GRACE'S VICTORY TOUCHDOWN IN THE LAST FEW MINUTES OF PLAY AFTER THE WEARERS OF THE RED AND BLUE HAD BEEN TRAILING WITTENBERG'S GREAT TEAM FOR THE ENTIRE CONTEST IT WAS THE FLYERS BALL ON THEIR OWN FOURTEEN A COMBINATION TRIPLE LATERAL PASS AND AN END RUN SWAN CARRIED THE BALL TO THE THREE YARD LINE BEFORE HE WAS DOWNED GRACE THEN TOOK IT OVER ON THE NEXT PLAY AND SWAN PLACE KICKED THE EXTRA POINT-

WITTENBERG'S SCORE CAME IN THE FIRST FEW MINUTES OF PLAY WHEN BRADLEY WITTENBERG'S ACE MADE A PERFECT PLACEKICK FROM THE 45 YARD LINE-AS THE GAME WORE ON IT LOOKED AS THOUGH BRADLEY'S TOE WOULD REPRESENT THE MARGIN OF THE DAYTON DEFEAT BUT THE LOCAL AGGREGATION WAS NOT TO BE DENIED IN THIS ONE TILT WHICH ESTABLISHED THEM AS ONE OF OHIO'S BEST-

MC GARRY AND THE RELIABLE SWAN CARRIED OFF DAYTON'S BACKFIELD HONORS WHILE SHUFFY AND MC COLGAN SCINTILLATED IN THE LINE-

Basketball at Bryn Mawr

By ETHEL LE ROY DE KOVEN

An amphitheatre built when Nature wrought her will,
Curve upon curve—a glinting, grass-grown citadel;
A tawny hollow worn by many a well fought rout,
And there a vivid, changing maze wreathes in and out.

The lithe, young figures, with their striving, joyous strength,
Entwined, rock to and fro in all their supple length;
Bright in October scarlet, gay in forest green,
They run like scurrying leaves, wind-blown through Autumn's scene.

Here, first, a struggling knot will waver, swerve and form
There, then, it breaks, like scattering clouds before a storm;

Wrenched bravely out with strength of straight young arms, the ball

An instant hovers buoyant, high above them all.

With the Flyers on the Hardwoods

DURING our four years at the University of Dayton we enjoyed the pleasure of seeing our Alma Mater's court representatives advance from a squad that merely hovered around the .500 mark each year to one that was the best in the last ten years of Dayton University's history.

In 1925 the Flyers managed to garner but 11 wins in 20 starts numbering among their victims Rio Grande, Assumption, Toledo St. John's, Cedarville, Cincinnati and Bowling Green. The worst defeat that the Red and Blue hoopsters were charged with was against our ancient rivals, John Carroll of Cleveland, 10-29.

1926 found the hilltoppers faring even worse, being able to claim wins in seven games as against eight losses. Bill Blake again was appointed to lead the Gem City netters and although the boys gave their all every minute of the games they were destined to taste bitter defeat eight times and to make it worse, two of those defeats again came at the hands of John Carroll.

Another year having rolled on we returned to find the 1927 edition of the Dayton cage squad finishing just above the halfway mark, winning 10 and dropping nine. Under their flashy leader, Sammy Hipa the Flyers pushed over such well known clubs as Ohio Northern, Wilmington, Antioch, Assumption and St. John's; but they dropped one and two point affairs with Cedarville, Ohio Northern, Wittenburg and Detroit University in games that were thrillers from the opening whistle to the closing gun.

In our senior year we viewed a new edition under Coach George Fitzpatrick that put fear into the hearts of every club that they faced. Fitzpatrick, new to the campus and his basketball material, must be given the greatest of praise for the seemingly miraculous way in which he brought the University of Dayton to the fore in the indoor sport. Coming from Grand Rapids, Michigan, Fitz, who had the reputation of turning out championship high school fives, did just what the majority of the wise ones said he wouldn't be able to do, namely, make the jump from a successful high school coach to an equal or even better one in the collegiate fields of Sport.

The result of Fitz's coaching speaks for itself. With that winged mercury, Johnny Debesis at the helm, the Flyers went through a sixteen game schedule with the greatest of success as their final record shows 11 victories and but five setbacks. Two of these losses were suffered in the final games of the season and were both one point affairs. The first was a 31-30 defeat at the hands of the Bowling Green teachers whom the Fitz-men had previously subdued at the local arena by a 45-28 count. The final game of the season resulted in a 25-24 loss to the famous Detroit University Titans. This game was one of those that wasn't decided until the final minute of play.

The Flyers were trailing at the half by a ten point margin but got going and tied it up at 24 all with but a minute of play left. In his anxiety to prevent an opponennt from scoring the winning basket, Dehler fouled him and so two free throws were awarded the Titan. Brazil was the player who was to make that basket and as he went to the foul line to toss in the two charity throws the timer announced that but 45 seconds of play remained. Brazil missed the first shot but made good on the second making the score 25-24 in Detroit's favor with but twenty seconds left to go—and so it ended.

The 1928 season was the second that the Red and Blue coursters played in the Ohio Conference, and we must say that they certainly gave a very good account of themselves.

The Dayton quintet inaugurated their season with a 27-17 victory over Defiance at the U. D. gym in a very slow contest.

Wittenberg was the next to swallow the bitter dregs of defeat. The scoreboard showed the final count to be 38-33, terminating one of the fastest games that has ever been put on display at the local arena. Johnny Ladner, the blonde forward from Chicago, showed himself to be a deadshot and was easily the outstanding star of the fray.

The Blue and Gold clad coursters of Antioch proved to be little opposition for the locals and consequently victory number three was rung up by a 51-22 score.

Following, Antioch the Flyers treked to Wilmington and set down shifty Bolen's outfit 35-30 in a game that resembled the well known pigskin game rather than basketball. It was Wilmington's first defeat in seven starts.

Returning to the local stamping grounds the Bowling Green teachers were added to the win streak by a 45-28 tally.

Next in our path was Ohio Wesleyan to be played on their floor. When the final gun had sounded we had met our first defeat 26-42. The Detrick coached machine was entirely too much for the Flyers and when Ladner received a bad arm and eye injury the locals seemed to go entirely to pieces.

Returning to Dayton once more the Fitz coached crew added win number six in the shape of a 29-22 victory over the Bluffton Beavers. The same week saw the fall of Capital U. on her own floor 49-24.

Wilmington and Antioch next fell by 45-34 and 39-14 scores respectively. Following the easy victory over Antioch we met our second defeat at the hands of Muskingum, last years' Ohio Conference champs, 44-34.

In the final home appearance of the Flyers, Assumption of Sandwich Ontario was met and defeated 46-24.

Hitting the rails the Flyers succumbed to Wittenberg 29-41 and Bowling Green 31-30. Following these two setbacks the Red and Blue snapped out of it long enough to defeat St. Mary's of Orchard Lake 28-24 and then closed their season the following night with the loss of that hetic affair that we previously mentioned.

Upon the Diamond

By HORACE SPENCER FISKE

The sunlight pours a golden flood across the grassy field,
As up against a cloudless sky the grand-stand throws its shield;

The umpire tosses out the ball, the batter takes his stand;
The catcher snugly fits his mask, the pitcher twirls his hand,

And the new white sphere goes twisting like a bullet from a gun,

And the crowds upon the bleachers settle down to see the fun.

In vivid May and rustling June
When breeze's breath is like a tune,
Oh, where can life be free?—

Where swings the bat,
Where shoots the ball,
Where rings the umpire's sudden call,
And curve and catch must settle all—

Six Invaluable Cogs in the Makeup of Last Year's Successful Nine

With everyone a letterman and all returning to the fold this Spring, one can see why the outlook is so bright at the present time.

Baseball History

FOR the third straight year, the Dayton University Flyer baseball team amazed Ohio and the middlewest by their superb diamond achievement.

Taking the records of the last trio of seasons, the varsity athletes have lost but six games of forty played with collegiate opponents, four of which were dropped in 1925. So why cannot Red and Blue followers hold up their heads with a certain esteem in that Uncle Sam's favorite pastime is being so well taken care of and learned in this educational institution.

Twelve victories and two losses are the results of the varsity efforts for 1927 of an original 20 game schedule which was tapered down by interference of rain. With this is a spotless Ohio Conference season of six wins, the second straight year the Baujanites were undefeated in Conference baseball circles.

May 4 is the exact date Dayton was forced to accept one of the bitterest defeats on the diamond, when the Wilmington Quakers, traditional rivals, came to the Gem City to administer the varsity their first setback for 1927 and bring an end to a winning streak which extended through 1926, of nineteen games.

The score of the game was 4 to 2 and though the varsity were rained out in the return game at Wilmington, they are waiting until this Spring to pay up for the sorry loss. Wilmington, however, had a mighty classy club.

The second defeat on the board was also on the home lot, this coming at the hands of another well known rival, Bluffton, and with the Beavers cleaning up everything in sight last Spring, they also carried the varsity with them 9 to 8.

The Ohio Conference wins of the season were registered over Miami, Cincinnati, two games with Wittenberg, Ohio Wesleyan and Marietta, quite a sprinkling of the cream of the Conference not alone the Buckeye Athletic Association. But three men were lost from the 1927 team, yet it includes players of much ability and reliability, Capt. Dick Snelling, Bill Belanich and Sam Hipa, the latter who participated in but four contests. Snelling at the present is under the call of the Washington Senators and played with the Jersey City club in 1927.

Capt. Tommy Gallagher, crack first baseman and leading batsman of the year, was chosen at the end of the season to lead the nine this Spring and succeed Snelling. Tommy has been a Flyer baseball member for four years and is expected to fill the post in an excellent manner. Besides, being first with the bat, he made but two errors in the field out of 129 chances last year.

This Spring, with a list of stars ready for the call, Dayton is anticipating another steller season and all that is necessary for the Red and Blue to do is to trip the big clubs. Minnesota will be played in Dayton on April 26.

Such battery men as Pesce, Baumann, Swan, Sharpenter and Reynolds will be returning and besides the material which comes from the sophomore ranks, should aid greatly in forming another formidable club. The fields will be practically intact.

Following is the record of the 1927 schedule.

Dayton	4	.....	Miami	2

The 1928 Outlook

THE University of Dayton baseball teams have always been amongst the best in this section of the country. Under their capable coach Harry C. Baujan, the Flyers have advanced in their brilliance yearly until they now are acclaimed champions of the Ohio Conference.

As the Daytonian goes to press, the Red and Blue is about to begin its 1928 campaign in defense of its title and is going to step higher in tackling the Minnesota Gophers of the Big Ten. The Gophers are coached by Arthur "Dutch" Bergmann, former Flyer backfield coach.

The Dayton prospects of enjoying another successful season are great. Having lost but two of his stalwarts from the 1927 championship crew, Baujan should steer his outfit to the head of the list again ere we receive our sheepskins.

Of the eighteen games that are scheduled, nine are with Ohio Conference opponents, and if won, will put the Flyers at the head of the pack with a lead that can be disputed by none. Again we will be the champions that we should be!

Under Captain Tom Gallagher, that smiling son of the Emerald Isle who holds down the first sack for the Red and Blue, will be the following lettermen from last year. Chuck Dehler, the hard hitting left fielder, John Debesis at short, "Orange" Crush and Alex Garland at second and Jocko McGarry at the far corner. Battery men returning are Shorty Sharpenter, Bill Reynolds and Bob Swan pitchers, and Joe Pesce and Charley Baumann catchers.

Among the eighteen sophomores that answered the first call for baseball candidates, the following will bear watching, Maurice Costello and Dip Sheuy in the outfield, Pat Gleason from the far off shores of Hawaii at the keystone sack and Bud Blumenthal and Adam Westerkamp, both stars on the Dayton Preps nine in 1926, on the pitchers' slab.

One of the bright lights in the Flyer nine of '27 and who coach Baujan expects to star even better this season, namely, Johnny Debesis, that winged mercury who performs at short, has signed a contract to play shortstop for the Cleveland Indians in the American league upon the completion of his scholastic efforts at the University this June. Debby has always been a heads up player in the three sports that he has participated in, baseball, football and basketball. He will leave the portals of dear old Dayton with our cries for success ringing in his ears. We know that he isn't a finished product yet, but give him a year or so and then watch old "Woppy," as we know him, step.

The Cry of the High Hurdlers

By HORACE SPENCER FISKE

The pistol cracks; we burst our bounds,
We're working arms and feet;
Our heads go back as on the track
We stretch, fresh racers fleet.

The hurdles lift their menace high
Like walls to break our flight;
We mount the air, a hidden stair,
And shoot their easy height.

And now we feel the final pull—
A triple struggle hot;
We catch the cries, we feel the eyes,
We "hit her up" a jot.

We spurt as one, we rise abreast,
Like horses o'er a hedge;
We hear the cry: "A tie, a tie!"
We'll drink to each a pledge.

Carried Colors of the Red and Blue in Field and Track for 1927

Of these men, Capt. Cabrinha, Hipa, Pettinger and Howell will be absent from the 1928 team.

Here is the Nucleus that Coach Fitzpatrick has for the '28 Cinder Path Team

Capt. Herbert Hart leads this year's Flyers with Miller being the only man in the above group who will be unavailable.

Track in 1927

EVER since track was elevated and "glorified" to the place of a major sport at the University of Dayton, and that was last year, interest in the events of the cinder and sand have taken such a hold that forecasts nothing but practically greater achievements in this field for following years.

With the constructing of almost every modern need that a track or field event requires in the Flyer's magnificent stadium where the meets are held, the Red and Blue can well boast of having one of the most suitable places of any school when it comes to the staging of such meets. A well nigh perfect cinder track of a quarter of a mile, one side of which is arranged a 220 yard straight-away, is of course the principal instrument of the place with this being equipped with four lanes.

Then there are the well arranged running broad-jump paths at either ends of the gridiron proper, the shot put pits, the field for the javelin, the run and pit for the pole vault and the high jump area. So popular is the track, that the second annual municipal track and field meet of Dayton was held within it's environs in the summer.

Luckily, rain did not take its toll in spoiling any track meets as it did the varsity baseball and tennis contests, with the result that three meets in all were staged in Dayton, besides two inter-class field events. Two meets held varsity entrants on foreign soil.

The biggest meet which was held in Dayton for the season was the triangular get-together of Wilmington, Antioch and Dayton, this being the second year that such an event was held. Dayton emerged first with 77 points, Wilmington was second with 37 and Antioch was third, though a close second to Wilmington, with 30 points.

Of the other meetings held at home, the varsity broke even. Kenyon was defeated 94 to 37 while the Black and Magenta of Muskingum turned back the Bergman representatives, 76 to 55. Dayton failed to place in the Ohio Relays and the Cincinnati Gym club won, 102 to 20, in the out-of-town events.

To the untiring efforts of Coach Arthur "Dutch" Bergman, was the success of the Flyer tracksters due, and though Bergman will not be mentor for the team this Spring, Coach Fitzpatrick is reported to be well versed in the lore of this popular and fast growing sport.

Two of the most outstanding men in the Flyer track firmament in the past several years will be lost this Spring on the graduation of Capt. Auggie Cabrinha and Sam Hipa. These winged Flyers added many points to Dayton's meets with Hipa being especially prominent in participating in so many various events.

Capt. Herbert Hart has been chosen to lead the 1928 team with the able Chicago blonde counting on having another successful season for himself as well as the Flyers.

An even dozen Dayton members of the track squad of last Spring will be available this season, they being Capt. Herb Hart, Al Hart, George Freitas, Doug Finn, Mat Marzluft, Jack Maxwell, George Houghtaling, Jack Robello, Frank McDermott, Fred Henne and Craig Gerdina is manager.

Following is the record for the 1927 season:

Dayton 77.....	Wilmington	37
	Antioch	30
Dayton 55.....	Muskingum	76
Dayton 20.....	Cincinnati Gym Club	102
Dayton 94.....	Kenyon	37

The Flyers on the Cinder Paths

WITH a new Coach in the person of George Fitzpatrick at their helm, the University of Dayton track team gives promise of surpassing by a great majority any previous results that former Flyer cinder teams may have compiled. If "Fitz" can raise the tracksters to the same heights that he did the varsity hardwood aggregation, then we, the students of the University of Dayton, will have something to look back upon and cherish.

In the past the local track teams have evoked very little interest amongst the students and as a consequence the results that those teams made were very, very little to speak of. However, this year, the team with a new coach at its head has given very good promise, up to the present writing, of becoming a championship aggregation.

Among the men left from last years squad are Captain Herb Hart, whose specialty is the field events, Robello and McDermott, weight men, Freitas and Maxwell in the dashes, Henne, Craig, Houghtailing, middle distance runners, and Doug Finn in the distance event. Park has loomed up as a neat hurdler.

A large amount of promising Sophomore material has reported for the daily grind and if everything continues to step along as it is doing at the present, you can bet that no small number of the men in question will be totaling not a few points for dear old Alma Mater. The aspirants that have brought delight to the writers eye are Paul Bachmann and Lacey in the distance runs, Nick Schneider, Weed and Iwashita in the dashes, Pat Hennessey low hurdler, and Rip Byrne in the 440 and 880 yard events. The latter now holds the municipal record for these two events and without a doubt should prove to be a valuable asset to the Dayton track stock.

So much for the present squad for the time being. The University will greatly miss its two outstanding track men of the past seasons in Auggy Cabrinha and Sammy Hipa. These two boys from the sunny shores of far off Hawaii have always been amongst the high point getters for the locals in their meets. This is particularly true in regard to Hipa.

Perhaps the greatest of Dayton's all around athletes, and the only four letter man in the university that was content to devote his entire spring activity to track, Hipa was a veritable gold mine when his value in points was totaled. Last spring Sam proved to be a veritable track team in himself. Usually he entered no less than six events: The high jump, broad jump, pole vault, high and low hurdles and the relays. When a man of his caliber is forced to foresake the sport that he best enjoys, can you blame a coach for accumulating the often referred to gray hairs? Certainly not!

With the Ohio relays, one triangular and four dual meets on the schedule, the hilltoppers shall have ample chance to strut their stuff. We expect great things of them and without a doubt, we are sure to get them.

The Tennis Court

(Anon. 1655)

When as the hand at Tennis plays,
 And men to gaming fall;
 Love is the Court, Hope is the House,
 And Favor serves the ball.
 This Ball itself is Due Desert;
 The Line that measure shows
 Is Reason; whereon Judgment looks,
 Where players win, or lose.
 And the Racket is Free Will;
 Which makes the ball rebound:
 And noble Beauty is the choice
 And of each game the Ground.
 Now at the length, Good-Liking proves
 Content to be their gain.
 Thus in the Tennis Court, Love is A pleasure mixed with pain.

Tennis

As the Annual goes to press a heavy schedule is being worked out for the tennis team by the Athletic Director.

At the call for candidates ten men reported. Practice sessions were held on the university courts.

After careful seeding it looks as though the team will be composed of John Carroll and Lawrence Bentz last years letter men and Paul Moorman, John Boren and Chuck Maxwell, Sophomores. Boren and Moorman should be an asset to the team this year as doubles players, a weakness all too noticeable in last years team. Incidentally these two men are among the first ten ranking singles and doubles players in the city of Dayton.

At present this years captain has not been selected but undoubtedly Lawrence Bentz will pilot the team through the coming season. Carroll, the only other man eligible for the captaincy, held that position last year.

In the past years the tennis team has suffered greatly from a lack of facilities, especially in the matter of courts for practice and match play. It has fallen to the lot of the team members to not only perfect their playing ability but also the condition of the courts themselves. Much valuable practice time has thus been lost. As the development of all sports at the university steadily increases in it's scope, it is hoped that the above named obstacle will be removed from the tennis team's path of progress.

With two men of two years experience each and with the addition of the splendid new material on hand, Coach Kronauge should turn out one of the best teams since the time six years ago when he was a member of the team himself.

Student Athletic Committees

DURING the Football season of 1928 there were two committees that contributed more or less to the success of the season, namely, The Football Ticket Committee and The Program Committee. Those serving on these two committees gave willingly of their time and efforts. Their sole purpose in thus serving their school was to help it gain success in the world of sports as well as to serve the fans who were in attendance at the games.

Brother John G. Bodie was General Supervisor of The Football Ticket Committee. Working under Brother Bodie and directly in charge of the tickets were Lawrence Bentz, W. Harold Kappeler and Joseph Keller. This committee took complete charge of the sales of tickets for all games during the Football Season. Quite an amount of responsibility was placed on this committee but with experience from previous years the committee performed its work admirably.

On the Program Committee were John Bruck, Gerald Herbison and Joseph Keller. This committee was also supervised by Brother John G. Bodie. The work of this committee was the publication of programs for the football games at the U. D. Stadium. The programs published by this committee were excellent ones and provided the best kind of souvenir of the games that could be had. The programs were very complete in their makeup containing the usual line-up of the teams playing the game, action pictures of the past games, the rules of the game and many other interesting features. The programs were a credit to the ability of all those who were concerned with their publication.

Intramural Champions

Two years ago, intramural athletics were in a chrystalitic stage. The idea had seized the minds of only a few students in the various departments. During this year, however, interclass sports were indulged in by the whole student body, by the resident students as well as the non-resident students. The arrival of a new assistant director of athletics in the capacity of Fitzpatrick, stimulated greater interest in athletics of this nature. By interclass activities according to the head coach, Baujan, accords an insight into the latent material among the student body. And so it proved. Some excellent material for the Varsity teams have been disclosed in the basketball games played this year and a lively school spirit has been created between the various classes which was only brought out by this means of competition.

For the second time since the organization of the league the seniors managed to come out on top of the pack but only after one of the closest seasons of play ever staged in any intramural activity. The fourth year men got away to a flying start by annexing six straight before they met their Waterloo at the hands of the non-resident Freshmen.

The near grads awoke from their drowsiness in time to add another win over the Alumni Hall Sophs and then the curtain was rung down on the most successful intramural basketball season at the U. D. In the play-off for the runnerup position the St. Joe Hall Sophs downed the Freshmen day students 23-16.

The members of the championship club were Jocko McGarry, Herb Hart, Tom Gallagher, Sam Hipa, Jimmy Grace, Matt Marzluft, Walter Kraft and Manager Nelson E. Phillips.

Freshmen Numeral Men

WHILE the varsity men were undergoing extensive training the Freshman Football squad was being trained for the coming season by James Spencer and Sam Hipa. The response of the Freshmen was indeed gratifying and approximately forty-five men reported. After a week of practice, the squad was reduced and primed for the usual scrimmage with the varsity. In other words, the Frosh received a great deal of bumps and bruises and achieved little renown in so doing.

It can be said though that they did much to reveal the weak points of the varsity and called the same to the attention of the head coaches. Few followers of the sport consider this fact. They hold to the opinion that a victorious varsity eleven is good merely because it plays a fine brand of ball and wins the majority of its games. They fail to bear in mind the fact that the smooth running football eleven owes its ease and perfect coordination to those who brought it about. The Green and White Frosh rendered valuable assistance in bringing this about and in so doing it is no more than right that they should come in for their share of the praise. Accordingly the above pictured men have received their num-earals as an acknowledgement of the thanks the school has to offer those who have performed their work well.

The Soldier's Toast

By RALPH S. THOMPSON

We are met on the eve of battle,
As sons of a brave land should;
And tomorrow—who recks of tomorrow?
For the songs and the wine are good;
And our comrades' laughter is around us,
And regret is a thing apart.
So come! to the song of the glasses—
I drink to the girl of my heart!

You will toast to a happier fortune,
To the end of endless wars;
You will toast to the land that bore us,
And her fair, far-fluttering stars;
And never a heart but will quicken
As the dear, old songs upstart;
But I pledge to tenderer memories—
I drink to the girl of my heart!

Let us not forget to remember Major General Dickman the honored member of our Alumni Board of Governors who died recently. We therefore accord his family our deepest and most sincere sympathies.

Battalion Attention!

FROM 1919 the Reserve Officers Training Corps has occupied an outstanding place in the life of the University. Born of the Student's Army Training Corps, which was established as an emergency war measure, it has grown rapidly from that time to the present in size and prestige. The loss of the majority of the Prep Classes decreased the size considerably but only cemented the remainder to a closer unity and resulted in a more intensive struggle for perfection.

In recognition of this progress, the unit was recommended for distinguished rating inspection in 1925. This was repeated in 1926 and in both years the coveted "Gold Star" Rating was missed by such a small per cent that the difference is practically negligible. In both years the Inspectors have commended the Unit for its classroom work, saying that it was the best in the Fifth Corps Area.

All of this progress is due to the untiring efforts of the Regular Army Detail stationed here. Commanding and supervising all departments is Major Emil E. Reinhardt, Professor of Military Science and Tactics. Major Reinhardt is a son of Michigan and a graduate of West Point. He has served in the Philippines and as a member of the 50th Infantry in the World War. Appointed to the command of the University in 1923, he has developed its military standing and quality to the stage where recommendation for and inspection of the unit by the War Department Board was received.

Captain Russell Baker, Assistant P. M. S. & T., is a native son of Ohio and was a member of the Ohio National Guard when the United States entered the World War. He served with the 42nd Division in France. Since his appointment as instructor the standing of the 2nd Advanced Class has improved tremendously.

Captain George E. Abrams, Assistant P. M. S. & T., was born in North Carolina and was a member of the National Guard at the outbreak of the World War. He served with the 4th Infantry. From the time of his attachment to the unit as an instructor in 1925 he has been a prominent figure as the officer that receives the First Advanced Class and imparts to them the elementary principles of leadership.

The work of Captain Alfred E. Dedicke, Assistant P. M. S. & T., and Coach of the Rifle Team, has been such to command the attention and respect of all who knew him and inspire confidence in all those who are in any way connected with him. He is a native of New York, joined the Regular Army from Madison Barracks, and served with the 50th Infantry in various capacities during the World War.

The other instructors at the University include Warrant Officer John H. Kramer, veteran of the Spanish American War, Philippine Insurrection and the World War, Sergeant Philip Kearney, veteran of the Spanish American War, the Mexican Border troubles and the World War, and Sergeant Greily who has seen service since 1908.

First Year Advanced Course

THE First Advanced class of the Reserve Officer Training Corps is composed of men who are beginning the more detailed study of military science in order to prepare themselves for commissions in the Officers Reserve Corps. The Reserve Officers Training course is divided into the Basic and Advanced course, both of which require two years of study. Here at the University, the Basic course is compulsory for college men and the Preparatory students. The First Year Advanced Students served as Company and Platoon Sergeants, and Sergeant Guides. In these duties they learn the elements and first principles of command and leadership so that they have some practical experience on the drill field.

In the classroom the first course studied is that of map reading and sketching. Next they study the Browning Machine Gun. Each year one of the Infantry weapons is studied by each class. The first basic handles the service rifle, the second basic studies the Browning Automatic rifle, and the second Advanced studies the Howitzer Weapons, the 37 mil. gun and the 3 in. light mortar. The study of the Machine Gun is the longest and most interesting subject of the course. It includes the stripping and assembling, the correction of temporary stoppages, the mechanical operation and the tactical use of the gun. The study of elementary combat principles completes the scholastic year.

One of the first requirements of an Advanced course student is that he attend an Army camp for six weeks during the summer, preferably between first and second year of the Advanced course, consequently the cadet sergeants are looking forward to the active duty training which they will receive this summer at Camp Knox, Ky.

Captain George E. Abrams, Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics had complete charge of the class and it was under his capable directorship that the future officers received their first knowledge of command and leadership. He initiated them into the advanced study of military science and inculcated into them the spirit of the officers of the Regular Army.

R. O. T. C. Rifle Team

THE University of Dayton rifle team under the supervision of Coach A. E. Dedicke, United States Army, at this writing has gone through one of the most successful indoor seasons in the history of the school with the remarkable record of thirty-one victories and but two defeats. The two institutions that the Red and Blue target smashers were forced to bow to were North Dakota State and the University of West Virginia.

The team this year, according to coach Dedicke, was far superior to the squad of last season that went through a very heavy schedule to amass a total of 22 victories in 28 matches. Only two experienced men Desch and Stenger were available from the past season but the new recruits to the firing line in the persons of Captain Bob McClear, Williams, Lang, Decker, Pipes, Brun, Gorhart, Sullivan and M. Cropper gave a very good example of how the diminutive targets should be smashed.

In the course of the season the U. D. squad defeated Northwestern, Rose Polytech, Georgetown, Indiana U., University of Akron, University of Nevada, Davidson College, Washington U., North Carolina State College, University of California, Fordham University, Clemonson College, Delaware, Rhode Island State, Massachusetts Aggies, U. of Wyoming, Utah Aggies, Alabama U., North Dakota U., U. of South Dakota, University of Oregon, University of Wisconsin, University of Idaho, Maine University, De Pauw University, Alabama Polytechnical Institute, Michigan State College, Pomona College, University of Western Maryland, Gettysburg University.

At this writing the following are the high point men in the order named, Stenger, Williams, Desch, Lang, Decker, Pipes, Gorhart, Captain McClear, Brun, Sullivan and M. Cropper.

Nature's Poem

By F. S. PALMER

Dame Nature once in godlike mood
Was with poetic fire imbued;
So, calling to her aid each Grace
That lived in secret woody place,
She robbed the roses of their hues,
She stole the freshness of the dews,
Their purity from the lilies took,
Their perfumes from the violets shook;
And thus with her wild offsprings' aid
Was Nature's perfect poem made.

Such grace it had she could not bear
To see it lying lifeless there—
With glowing breath she made it human,
And called her fairest poem Woman.

The Daytonian

TRY to cram 100,000 seconds of interesting history into each page of a 304 page book, and you will have some idea of the task an annual staff faces. The average annual embodies from 30,000 to 40,000 words, about 700 cuts of photos and art work, hundreds of people to be seen for ads, reams of paper to be spent in correspondence, and every student of the campus to be approached for his subscription.

The 1928 Daytonian embodies all that and more. To Chief Larry Bentz and Faculty Advisor Abel, at the head of an interested Staff, must go real credit for having planned and executed some of the best annual features this beloved Universitas Daytonensis has ever seen.

First of all, there is that beautiful scenic section. Fellow students, alumni and faculty, did you ever really think your school was that beautiful? Unreservedly, these soft, pebble-grained scenes of Alma Mater are mementoes to muse over happily in later days—pick out a soft, roomy Morris chair, draw it up to the grate, light the pipe, turn to those scenes of the old school, and dream—that is what you will be doing often after graduation.

In the section of the Daytonian dedicated to sports, there has also been worked out a distinctly novel idea. In effect it is football history by graph. In this respect, the present Staff feels some what like Balboa poised triumphant over his new discovery.

The method of dedicating this book is also something new—To Invention, Industry, and Education—personified in Messrs. Wright and Patterson, and our President, Father O'Reilly. Mr. Wright and Mr. Patterson, in their respective fields have carried wide the name and fame of the Air City. And who is there better to represent the cause of education than our President, who this year celebrated the Silver Jubilee Year of his priestly career, a career devoted solely to that cause?

This Daytonian also embodies the first complete Alumni section, with its history, local chapters and governing board. All in all, the 1928 Daytonian represents a big step forward. To those who will carry on next year, the Staff says "Good Luck."

Exponent

THE University of Dayton Exponent, the literary organ of the school is a monthly magazine published under the able tutelage of the faculty supervisor, Dr. Lawrence Boll, S. M., and an undergraduate editorial staff.

The University of Dayton Exponent is the medium whereby the students of the University of Dayton can express to the outside world as well as to the student body their intellectual initiative. It is the guage by which our creative efforts are judged by other institutions.

The idea on which the policy of the University of Dayton Exponent has been founded is the basic principle that the development of the intellect underlies the existence of a University. The Exponent may well use a quotation from Cardinal Newman to express in full its policy: "Today I have confirmed myself to saying that the training of the intellect which is best for the individual himself, best enables himself to discharge his duties to society." For twenty-five years the Exponent has served as a promoter of higher education and as such it has proved an important factor in the developing of a greater University of Dayton. Hence, as the Exponent is nearing the close of its twenty-sixth year, it is doing all in its power to encourage creative work among the students.

Every form of writing is published by the Exponent. The short story, verse and essay have been sponsored by it. In addition to these articles, various departments are carried among which are the Exchanges, Chronicle, Alumni Notes, Bits About 'Em, which contains excerpts from the lives of the students on the campus, Athletics, Music and Dramatics and Humor.

Through the medium of the Exchanges, the name of our institution is broadcasted throughout the United States and foreign Countries. The Chronicle is the only record of events that is kept on the campus. The Alumni Notes help the "old timers" keep in touch with their classmates and the activities of the University. The Spotlight backs all athletic activities, while the department on Music and Dramatics assists the band, the orchestra and all dramatic clubs by a criticism of their works.

The U. of D. News

THE more you do of this newspaper game, the more you want to do. The Staff of the U. D. News derived a multiplying enjoyment out of publishing the little paper. To attend a certain event, type out your story, hand it in to the Editor, and then read it afterwards in black and white, often on the front page—this was something that carried a real thrill. It is the reason why all newspaper men are so loathe to quit the profession they have chosen.

The readers, too, derived their satisfaction from the paper. Due to the fact that it only appeared fortnightly, its advent was always eagerly anticipated—the old saw about absence making the heart grow fonder. It is questionable, however, whether the campus would furnish enough news to warrant printing the News oftener.

The News always faced a certain handicap, as do all college newspapers unless they are published daily, in that its best news was usually stale news. This was due to the fact that such news always appears first in the city dailies; that they are able to steal a march on the U. D. News, limited to its fortnightly appearance.

However, the Staff usually managed to present such material from some new angle that gave fresh interest to the story. Then, of course, there was always such material as club meetings, lectures, personals, editorials, and such of a minor sort, interesting to the student body but which no daily cares to handle. It is in this field that the college newspaper's mission lies. Add to this its function of reflecting, in its editorial columns, the student opinion, and you have a good idea of what the News did last year.

Robert Bergan headed the Staff until last February, when John Will became Editor-in-Chief. Similarly, Ray Jay Grdina was succeeded by Paul Moorman as Sport Editor. The Sport page, under these two men, aided voluminously by Andy Cunningham and George Janko, was the big feature of the News. The college gossip dispensed by Clement Kemer and Charles Kendall on the editorial page gave the light touch of humor to the publication. Glassmeyer, of the Preps, contributed his two columns of Prep news faithfully.

These men with the other Staff standbys, under the direction of Faculty Advisor D. Herbert Abel, can take pride in the knowledge that all the year through, in an interesting way, they told the University of Dayton, its Alumni and well-wishers what was happening on the campus.

The Publicity Department

HARD work and plenty of it was the daily menu for the Publicity department. To them was assigned the arduous task of keeping the University of Dayton before the eyes of the public.

These six men under the direction of Mr. D. Herbert Abel, gave many of their much needed hours in order that they might report to the world at large the progress of the various athletic teams in training, practice and games; and also properly covered the many-sided phases of extra curricular activity on the U. D. Campus.

Not content with local publicity these men went out of their way to furnish other newspapers throughout the country with the news of our Alma Mater. Add to these odd jobs the weekly task of sending out bulletins on the campus activities to other collegiate news organs and without a doubt you will come to the conclusion that these men really lead a very busy life.

MUSIC and DRAMA

Into the Land of Song

By DWIGHT WILLISON MARVIN

Into the land of song, my boys,
Where the balmy breezes blow;
Where all is a-wing with a rythmic swing
Or a cadence soft and slow.
For what was the earth ere the minstrel's birth
Brought music and song to men?
So hurry along to the land of song
Where the minstrel sings again.
There is plenty of grief and woe, my boys,
Ere the day lies down to rest;
But there's naught but cheer for the youth's short year
With a love song in his breast,
For the song land teems with love and dreams,
And its spells are deep and strong;
So—into the land of song, my boys,

U. of D. Band

THE University Band, begun in 1904, has long been one of the most outstanding organizations on the campus. In this year strange noises were heard that eventually resulted in the Band that today fascinates and attracts the students that throng the campus.

Our readers have already heard the praises of the Band, its military bearing, precise marching, and concert-like playing have made all who heard well acquainted with the way Band Music should be played and anymore mention would only be superfluous wording. It is enough to say that the growth of the Band has been phenomenal for the twenty-four years of its existence and in a school the size of Dayton it has done great wonders in the musical line.

All this development is due primarily to the veteran leader and director, Brother Louis Vogt. Brother Louis is this year celebrating his golden anniversary as the head of the Music Department. Fifty years have passed over his head since he first received the appointment as director of the Orchestra. He has long had the idea of starting a Band that would advertise the University to the outside world in a way that could not be overlooked. His labors have seen the climax this year when the Band was the admiration of all who attended any functions which the organization enlivened. The energetic manner in which he conducted the Jubilee Concert convinced all present that Brother Louis has not allowed the years to take their toll but will probably find himself able to conduct for many more years.

Coordinating with Brother Louis and aiding in the snappy appearance of the Band has been the able and efficient Drum Major, Paul Keenan. This husky baton twirler was the successor to a very promising line of drum majors of the Band. His work during the football season was the subject of much favorable comment and in justice Paul Keenan must be in the Band praise.

Hawaiian Quintet

BIGGER and better! George "Irish" Freitas's organization of two years ago is now the famous University of Dayton Hawaiian Quintet, Dayton's foremost entertainers and radio artists.

From the small school organization that they were at their birth two years ago, George and his gang have risen, at an unbelievable pace, to a position where they are constantly in demand for club and stage work throughout the city of Dayton and its outlying districts.

Playing and singing the ever popular Hawaiian melodies, before ever increasing and appreciative audiences, their fame as dispensers of melody and mirth soon spread beyond the boundaries of the campus.

Then came their debut into the etherial field, broadcasting from the local station WSMK and WSAI at Cincinnati, where their efforts were greeted with countless telephone calls and telegrams from all over this section of the country.

Following this venture on the air, the boys became so popular and were so much in demand that they were at a loss to fill all their engagements. And now at the present time, only the fact that they are students keeps them off the regular vaudeville stage, as offers have already been made them.

Student Orchestra

OUT of the desire of the students of music at the University grew the organization that in the past years has been of great pleasure and a source of unending enjoyment to the University boys. Since their appearance in 1927, the orchestra has been in demand ever since the faculty realized that here was an orchestra that combined pep with music and gave to Jazz a touch that made it enjoyable.

In the present the student orchestra, or its counterpart, the prep orchestra, composed of members of this orchestra, have played at the different productions of the Auditorium Club, the Players Club, and the Little Theatre Club. It has been in demand at the Football Banquet, the Law Banquet, and numerous other festivals of the University.

Such has been the appeal in the students for the music of this organization. Typifying the present day, and truly presenting the spirit of our modern music, the orchestra has played its way into the hearts of all who enjoy the taste of waltzes and foxtrots played in modern ways.

The members of the orchestra are of the type that will eventually be the members of the organizations that today amuse the public professionally. We have Dick Miller, Barry Dwyer, John Gabel, Jim Reed, John Krick, and Francis S. Gabel as the director and manager.

The last credit of the organization must be given to Brother Louis Vogt, the Jubilarian Director of the Band and College Orchestra. He has laid the foundation of music for these men, has inculcated in them the idea of cooperation in the music line, and has made many full-fledged musicians in the past years. May he continue his work of producing Bands.

"THE PATSY"

“SEVENTH HEAVEN”

Produced by the U. D. Little Theatre, February 19-20, 1928

WHEREIN the Little Theatre achieved the greatest success of its four years of effort in presenting Austin Strong's war drama embodying the love of Chico, the Paris sewer-cleaner, for the little waif of the Paris slums, Diane.

Thomas Gallagher, president of the Little Theatre, added his third major triumph in the part of Chico while Lucille Abel, as Diane, was a revelation in her first major part as a Little Theatre member.

At least four other characterizations of male parts were outstanding: these including the taxi-cab driver Boul by DeWitt Ashton; Colonel Brissac by Tom Daugherty; Pere Chevillon by Joseph J. Abel and the Sewer Rat by Jack Meresicky.

Other female parts consisted of Aunt Valentine by Mrs. Joseph Abel; Nana, the absinthe drugged sister by Ann Kathryn Abel and Arlette, the bar-maid, by Rose-marie Abel.

Ted Cummings in his first play presented a very faithful and pictureque Gobin, the bewhiskered street washer.

"Seventh Heaven" brought to a conclusion the dramatic activities of the first group of students organized under the name of the Auditorium Club and later affiliated with the Players Club as the University of Dayton Little Theatre.

Quite a few of the University's dramatic artists will be graduated in June, among them being John Carroll, John Bruck, DeWitt Ashton, and Thomas Gallagher, all of whom have played at least three major parts during their scholastic careers besides a goodly number of minor roles.

Other actors among the seniors include Robert Bergan, Robert O'Brien, Gerald Herbison, and Michael Burger, besides the head stage electrician, Joe Reis.

An integral part of the success of the University of Dayton productions was the atmospheric music and special orchestrations arranged by Brother Louis Vogt who this year celebrates his golden jubilee as music director at Dayton.

DANCES

The Masquerade

(from The Bowdoin Quill)

The music rang in prelude sweet;
 And Bo-Peep with her shepherd's crook,
 The gallant Mephistopheles,
 Low bowing, as his partner took
 And led the march adown the hall;
 While lads and lassies, two and two,
 Around, about, and in and out,
 The circling figure followed through.
 And figures fair and figures brave
 Flit through the gay enchanted scene;
 Quaint Mother Goose in scarlet gown,
 The guardsmen with their gallant mien,
 The wood-nymph and the flower-girl,
 The major with mustaches gray,
 "Old Uncle S." in starry vest,
 The Georgian, and the jester gay.

Monogram Dance Committee

COMMITTEE: Francis McDermott
Herbert Hart
Matthew Marzluff
John Maxwell
Joseph Pesce

THE fourth annual "D" Dance sponsored by the Monogram Club honoring the Lettermen at the University was held at the Greystone Ballroom on the evening of January 14.

As in the past the "D" Dance was considered one of the outstanding social events of the season, and from the standpoint of attendance and congeniality of those present, this year's affair proved no exception. The hall was fittingly decorated with the school colors, the "D" being used as a prominent decorative feature. Red carnations identifying the Lettermen were pinned on the lapels.

The music left nothing to be desired and this along with the original favors and novelties helped immensely towards making the Dance the success it was.

The program dedicated to the graduating Lettermen and the coaches, Baujan and Fitzpatrick, numbered twelve dances.

The committee is to be complimented on giving the graduating Lettermen who leave us and the student body, not only an enjoyable evening, but an evening that will long remain in their memories as one of the most successful dances given by the Monogram Club.

Football Dance Committee

COMMITTEE: John Hochadel
Lawrence Bentz
Nelson Phillips
Walter Kraft
John McGarry
Matthew Marzluft

As has been the custom in the past, in order to honor the "Flyer Football Squad," this year, the Senior Class met at the beginning of the year and selected eight men, consisting of John V. McGarry, chairman, Matthew Marzluft, Walter C. Kraft, Lawrence A. Bentz, Nelson E. Phillips, Joseph O'Connor, John P. Hochadel, and Robert O'Brien, to conduct a series of dances during the football season.

Two dances were held. The first was given at the Engineer's Club after the opening game of the season with Findlay College, on Saturday, October 1. The "Miami Yellow Jackets," a snappy quintet was secured to play for this dance. It was next to impossible to accommodate the number that attended.

The second dance was given at the Dayton Country Club after the Quantico Marine game, on Saturday, October 22. "Flotron and Walkup's" orchestra furnished the music for the occasion and they performed their part of the ceremony to the satisfaction of everyone present. It was home coming day and a goodly number of old faces were there.

Military Dance

Of all the gala events on the social calendar, the Military Ball was undoubtedly the biggest success. This dance is held yearly by the Officers Club at the University. The Miami Hotel Ballroom was the scene of the delightful affair which was held on February third.

The attractive hall was artistically decorated. American flags and the school colors were draped along the walls, and dainty vases of red, white and blue flowers were placed daintily about the room.

The evening was one of intense enjoyment, and the dancers had the additional pleasure of entertaining Colonel and Mrs. Harris of Columbus. Colonel Harris is the Corps area commander of the R. O. T. C., and the University felt highly honored in having him for its guest.

The dance was formal and attendance was limited to the student officers of the infantry unit. Decked in their dress uniforms the cadets presented a very pleasing picture. The young ladies also contributed their best efforts to make the affair a fashion show.

Much credit for the huge success goes to the committee who worked hard and long to make the ball pleasing to all. The military instructors at the University attended. They were:

Major and Mrs. Emil F. Reinhardt P. M. S. T.
 Captain and Mrs. Russell Baker D. O. L.
 Captain and Mrs. George Abrams D. O. L.
 Captain and Mrs. Alfred Dedicke D. O. L.

Farewell Dance Committee

HAVE you ordered your ticket for the Farewell Dance, which is to be held during the month of May as a token of farewell to the Senior Class. All the Seniors have signified their intention of attending and the committee in charge is giving its attention to the wishes of the class.

If you have not as yet signified your intention of going, look upon this short message as a personal request from the Seniors to do it now, as the time limit for the dance is drawing near and the number of tickets is limited.

Our feelings can best be expressed in the following verse, as will yours, when you have reached the end of the trail:

"You don't begrudge the trials grim when joy comes to you;
 You don't recall the dreary days when all your skies were blue;
 And though you've tread a weary mile
 The ache of it was all worth while;
 And all the stings
 And bitter flings
 Are wiped away upon the day
 Success comes dancing down the way."

Wishing you every success in your coming scholastic trials and hoping to have the pleasure of spending the evening with you at the Senior Farewell Dance, and that you will not overlook this invitation from us, we are,

Sincerely yours,
 SENIORS OF '28

Popularity Contest Winners

TEN idols of the University of Dayton campus were chosen by the student body in their first annual popularity contest. Singling out those marked by any special gift—from the most handsome to the most practical—the contest was conducted by the University News, the official campus paper.

Here are the results of the election: Patrick Wilcox smiling young southana from Chattanooga, Tenn., and all around athlete was voted the most popular student. Patrick literally ran away with this phase of the contest.

In the contest to decide who had done the most for the school the race was closer, with Lawrence Bentz, Dayton, Ohio, hard working Editor-in-chief of the "Daytonian" finally winning the honor.

John Debesis made another runaway race for the best athlete in school. Debby, by his sterling work on the gridiron, court and by his achievement of professional baseball offer in the diamond pastime, has risen recently to a position where he overshadows all other athletes on the campus. John Maxwell received the most votes for the pride of handsomest man on the campus. At various times others seemed destined to cop the honor but Jack finished up with a comfortable margin.

For the distinction of being called the most ambitious man on the property, there developed a race between John Will and Andy Cunningham with the latter winning out in a great last minute spurt of votes. Andy is only a Freshman but has already accomplished much in sports and writing.

Charles Bauman won the distinction of being the campus clown, while George Freitas carried off the most cultured student vote.

Paul Friz made a runaway of the most ambitious, Marian Griez, the most studious and Bud Blumenthal, the best dressed.

At the Club

By RICHARD HOVEY

When a pretty maiden passes
 By the window down the street,
 Cards and billiards lose their sweet;
 Conversation on old brasses
 Languishes; up go the glasses:
 "Nice complexion!" "Dainty feet!"
 When a pretty maiden passes
 By the window down the street.

Smith forgets the "toiling masses,"
 Robinson the fall in wheat;
 All the club is indiscreet.
 Ah, the wisest men are asses
 When a pretty maiden passes
 By the window down the street.

The Sodality

THE aim of religious activities at the University is the development of the spiritual side of the students life along with the mental and physical development received in other activities.

There are ten Units, functioning under faculty moderators. Each Unit has three groups: the Sodality, Holy Name, and Mission Sections. Three general committees aid in coordinating the work of the units. Weekly meetings are made interesting and beneficial by talks, discussions, and papers prepared by the students.

On November Fourth and Fifth a trip to the Sodality School, held at St. Xavier College in Cincinnati, was made by Father C. V. Preisinger, our general moderator, accompanied by Robert Bergan, John Carroll, and Gilbert Striker. The school was conducted by the Rev. Daniel A. Lord, S. J. and many good ideas on organization were obtained from his lectures.

A review of the years prominent activities includes the following events: December Seventh, a Sodality Rally in the Chapel, with an address on The Immaculate Conception by Rev. Walter Tredtin, S. M.; December Fourteenth, reception of new Sodalists, Father O'Reilly officiating; January Twenty-fifth, a Holy Name Rally with an address on clean speech by Rev. Bernard J. Robers of Miamisburg, O.; December Thirteenth and January Twenty-fourth, lectures with illustrative slides on the foreign missions.

A large bulletin-board was installed containing interesting literature and announcements of coming events. Each Unit subscribed to the "Shield," "Queen's work," and other publications.

As the Annual goes to press other activities including good lectures are being planned.

Gregorian Sodality

OFFICERS

John Dugan.....	President
John Schuler.....	Vice President
John Tierney.....	Secretary
Rev. George Renneker, S. M.....	Moderator

THE Gregorian Sodality was organized in 1907 when the Preparatory Seminary of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati was temporarily suppressed. Its purpose was to foster prospective theological students, directed to the University of Dayton for their classical training. The appropriate name of Saint Gregory was given to the sodality, because he is the Patron of the Preparatory Seminary.

This particular work is continued with ever increasing interest and excellent results at the University. This year the membership of the sodality has reached the number of fifteen, four of which will enroll at the St. Gregory Seminary, Cincinnati, next September as first philosophers.

Meetings are held bi-monthly at which the students of the third and fourth years of the Preparatory Department and College students are eligible for membership.

The program of these meetings consists in the recitation of the "Little Office," remarks by the president, comment on the Communion report by the vice president, roll call by the secretary, two appropriate talks by appointed members and as a fitting conclusion the moderator devotes the remaining part of the hour to some personal and practical advice to the sodalists.

The social functions of the sodality are few but are very well adapted to the purpose of the organization. They are three in number. The first consists in a dinner meeting, which is given at the beginning of the scholastic year to welcome new members; the second is given shortly before Lent in the form of a smoker; the third is a farewell banquet to those members leaving for the Seminary.

International Relations Club

OFFICERS

Robert Bergk.....	President
Thomas Daugherty.....	Publicity Director
Francis Marshall.....	Treasurer
Thomas M. Ryan.....	Secretary

DURING the current year a history club was organized among the members of the history department. A local chapter of the national organization, The International Relations Clubs, was started and now numbers forty-five divided into active and associated members. The national organization of the club is fostered by the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace.

The modern history of the nations of the world is studied at the various meetings which are held monthly. Occasionally prominent speakers from Dayton, men who have traveled extensively throughout the world, are invited to address the club. Mr. Daniel Iddings spoke on Mexico; Mr. George B. Smith treated Alaska in connection with the Doctor Kuhlman History Contest topic "The Development of Alaska Under American Rule."

Perhaps at no other school in the country has a club enjoyed such phenomenal growth as the International Relations Club at the University during the past scholastic year. Its success so far is traced to the Rev. Charles Preisinger, the instigator and the faculty advisor of the club.

The responsibilities and duties of membership in this club are comparatively light yet there is something about it that holds its membership to only the cream of the University.

THE University of Dayton Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers has completed its third and most successful year as an active organization on the campus. However its activities have extended beyond the campus as the Student Chapter has been represented at the monthly meetings of the Dayton Chapter and at the National Convention at Columbus.

At the monthly meetings many excellent papers and lectures on engineering projects and development have been presented. These lectures were given by the members and by prominent engineers who spoke of projects on which they were working. At the March meeting the members were exceptionally fortunate in hearing a lecture by Mr. C. S. Bennett of the Miami Conservancy District, on "Floods and Flood Control."

The year's activities will culminate in the donation of a prize to one of the members by the Dayton Section. The prize consists of a years dues in the Society and will be given to the member writing the best essay on an engineering project. Congratulations to the lucky Senior who wins the prize.

The members feel that the success of the Student Chapter for the past three years has been due largely to the efforts of their faculty supervisor, Brother Bernard Schad, Head of the Civil Engineering Department, and they take this opportunity to express their thanks for his excellent work.

Band Club

OFFICERS

Paul Keenan.....	President
James Cline.....	Vice President
John Schuler.....	Secretary
Louis Vogt, S. M.....	Moderator

THE Band Club, composed of musical talent under the direction of Bro. Louis Vogt, originated about twenty-five years ago as a necessary organization to cope with the business propositions that presented themselves, regarding the tours and the local engagements of the University Band. At the opening of each scholastic year, the Band Club reorganizes with the election of new officers and with the admittance of new members.

At present this musical organization is the only club on the campus that controls an independent active organization, as the U. D. Band, which continues to function throughout the year.

This club reflects the intense interest that the band members incorporate into their musical productions for public interest. The climax of the Band's yearly program is reached in the concert given by the members for the benefit of Dayton music-lovers.

The Club likewise has another purpose in view, which tends to link our student-musicians with the greater professional artists and masters of great musical compositions.

This year the members of the Club, which numbers about fifty, are especially interested in the activities of the Band, because this is the Golden Jubilee of our moderator, as the director of the Band. It was Brother Louis Vogt that started both the Band and Band Club and at the present time it is he who inspires these clubs with enthusiasm, that is responsible for their success.

The social functions of this Club are usually brought to a close with a magnificent banquet, at which the members dedicate their year's work to their Alma Mater.

Commerce Club

OFFICERS

Walter C. Kraft.....	President
Douglas E. Finn.....	Vice President
Paul C. Lutz.....	Secretary
Charles A. Rieling.....	Treasurer
Mr. E. B. O'Leary.....	Faculty Advisor

THE Commerce Club now in its fourth year, continues to be one of the foremost organizations on the campus. This is due to the enthusiasm of the members and the worth-while programs of their meetings.

Under the Faculty supervision of Professor O'Leary many prominent business and professional men of Dayton and the Middle West have given addresses and lectures on various subjects of interest to the students of the club.

Several banquets were held at the Engineers Club and men from the Dayton Rubber Co., Elder's, National Cash Register Co., Toledo Scale Co., and other large concerns were the principal speakers. The object of these talks was to give the students an insight into the intricacies of the business world in a practical way and to stress the importance of honest business operations.

The aim of the Commerce Club is to give the students of Commerce a broader view of the workings of finance; of the organization of modern industry with its background of specialization and credit system; of the ideal methods of distribution; of the effective ways in advertising and their results and to acquaint the students with the necessity of being organizers.

Debating Team

AFTER sleeping peacefully for two years, the University Debating team was re-organized under the capable direction of Dr. Lawrence Boll. Dr. Boll, recently transferred from Catholic University, possesses a vast knowledge of the art of argumentation and with very little veteran material he formed a team that could compete favorably with the best in the country. The showing of the team has aroused considerable comment among the forensic lovers of Dayton and has been an object of praise.

The work of the debating team this last year is due in a great measure to the untiring efforts of its officers. Howard Hartman was elected president at the first meeting and proved a capable leader. He has had two years of inter-collegiate experience and showed the result of this in the debates in which he took part. He formed the mainstay of the Negative team and was very effective in his arguments.

Francis Gabel, the manager of the 1928 team, has had but little experience as a collegiate debater. He took part in the interclass debates of 1927 but otherwise had no part in big debates. Frederick Dove, the secretary of the organization is but a Freshman but showed that a Freshman could talk when given the opportunity.

Joseph Park, the second speaker of the Negative, possesses a cool, logical mind that often worked havoc with his opponents. Mose Gitman, the last negative speaker, proved that eloquence still plays a major part in debating and his appeals to the common sense of the audience were very effective in the debates. Charles Deger, is another of those cool speakers that can puzzle an opposing team by his arguments. Martin Haag was also a cool, logical, as well as an eloquent speaker for the affirmative.

The team has engaged in four debates at the time of writing and two of those were non-decision. The affirmative, supported by Haag, Deger, Iswashita, who by the way is one of the most forceful speakers on the campus, and Dove, took part in the two non-decision debates. They met Oberlin and Northwestern University on the current subject for the year. This was, "Resolved: That the United States should refuse to protect by armed intervention the foreign investments of its citizens." Both of these debates brought out all the ability of the young men in defense of their policies, and all who attended were satisfied that the boys knew their business.

The negative team took part in the two debates where a decision was rendered. The first, with Buffalo University, was lost by a two to one decision of the assembled judges and the second, with McMurray College, of Abilene, Texas, was won by a similar decision. In both of these the speakers were taxed to the utmost in their issues and proofs. Taken as a whole the year of debating at the University was a decided success for a team in its infancy as it was in debating.

The University of Dayton Little Theatre

FOUR years ago an ambitious group of Freshmen formed what was then known as the Auditorium Club under the direction of D. Herbert Abel for the purpose of producing dramatic entertainments.

The next year saw the amalgamation of this group with another, "The Players Club," under the direction of Joseph J. Abel. "The Players" had been producing dramas at the University since the spring of 1921. The new organization took the name of the University Little Theatre and since then have produced no less than thirteen plays.

The year 1925:

- "Seventeen" (Leads: John Craig, Roy Homer)
- "Kempy" (Leads: John Bruck, Rosemarie Abel)
- "Three Wise Fools" (Leads: D. Ashton, G. Herbison)

The year 1926:

- "East is West" (Leads: Thomas Gallagher, Ann Pfeiffer)
- "Kick In" (Leads: D. Herbert Abel, Rosemarie Abel)
- "Applesauce" (Leads: John Carroll, Rosemarie Abel)
- "Shakespearean Evening" (Featuring Joseph J. Abel)

The year 1927:

- "The Bad Man" (Leads: Thomas Gallagher, Thelma Griefmeder)
- "Got To Have Money" (Leads: Tom Daugherty, Adelaide Kuhl)
- "Dollars and Chickens" (Leads: John Carroll, Rosemarie Abel)
- "The Patsy" (Leads: Thomas Daugherty, Rosemarie Abel)
- "The Bride" (Leads: J. Bruck, C. Bauman, Thelma Turner)

The year 1928:

- "Seventh Heaven" (Leads: Thomas Gallagher, Lucille Abel)

Monogram Club

OFFICERS

Herbert Y. Hart.....	President
John J. Debesis.....	Vice President
Matthew J. Martzluft.....	Secretary
James J. Grace.....	Treasurer

THE Monogram Club of the University of Dayton was organized and now exists for two primary reasons. First, to keep athletics at their present high standard at the University, and secondly, to honor and respect the monogram.

It is not an old club but its growth and progress has been remarkable. It started in 1924 with the aid of the Alumni and the ardent support of the athletes.

The club meets twice a month for business reasons, and, when necessary, to take in new members who may have been awarded monograms since the previous meeting.

A constitution, of necessity, was drawn up and controls every member. Its principal rules regard the monogram and the eligibility and conduct of the wearer.

Besides athletics, the club has few social functions altho it sponsors a traditional "D" dance which is always one of the year's best hops. This year the monogram men gave their talent, and assistance in ticket selling, to forward the success of the "Annual Frolic."

Every year the club improves with the support of its members, and it's faithful alumni members, becoming recognized as one of the leading organizations, if not the leading organization, on the campus.

Officer's Club

WHEN the Student Army Training Corps was established at the University during the Great War, the officers banded together and formed what has since been known as the Officers' Club of the University of Dayton. Membership is limited to cadet commissioned officers who have shown proficiency and interest in military subjects. The immediate purpose of the organization is to create interest among the men taking military science and thereby advance the efficiency of the unit. The results obtained are indeed praiseworthy. More enthusiasm is shown by the students and a higher type of reserve officers are turned out each year.

Some of the impromptu "get togethers" will never be forgotten. Smokers, dinners and the Military Ball, held at the Miami, comprised the chief activities of the year. One of the very pleasant experiences of the members was the opportunity to hear military authorities speak on timely subjects at many of the meetings. This method was found ideal in giving the men an insight into various military phases not covered in the regular course.

The members of the Club this year are all charter members of the Black Guard Fusileers R. O. L. The R. O. L. was formed on an oatmeal day in July (you know, one of those gruelling days) at Camp Knox, Ky. It was while working in the pits under bull of '79 that this organization was conceived in an empty head. Active chapters have been established at six other Universities and next year the boys at camp will no doubt continue the good work. Remember the pass word, men: "Redisk seven-nine," "A miss on eight-O."

Engineer's Club

THE Engineers Club was founded on November 5, 1925. The purpose of the club as set down in its conception is twofold: to get the students of the various branches of engineering together for the interchange of ideas relative to their respective fields of study, and secondly to secure prominent engineers to give talks on engineering as it is actually carried on in the world today.

Membership is extended to upperclassmen from the Chemical, Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering Departments.

When such a group of young men, studying the various phases of engineering into which their respective lines carry them, get together, there naturally results some heated discussions as to the relative merits of projects in these different fields. However such discussions are beneficial as they broaden the students outlook to include a general knowledge and more or less intimate contact with problems and activities not directly in his line of study.

We hope that this club, with all its possibilities for good work and for uniting the students of the different departments of engineering on a common basis, such as only an active club of this nature can do, will grow and will take its proper place among the most energetic organizations on the campus.

Glee Club

*I*N the middle of October, 1927, the first determined effort in the annals of the University was made in the establishing of a Glee Club. Quite a number of the student-body sought admission at this first meeting which was conducted by our present director Daniel Donovan. Ever since this first meeting much enthusiasm and persistent work has been displayed on the part of the members and by now the organization is recognized as a distinguished group due to the success of its past engagements.

On February 6, 1928, the Club made their initial appearance in the "Glee Club Concert and Frolic" held at Memorial Hall, Dayton, Ohio. The event was a huge success from every angle. The undivided assistance given by the student body and patrons of the club is commendable for the numerous ways they helped the organization on that evening. Let it be noted here that the club has been congratulated often for their presentation that evening, however, not alone for technique of the art of voice alone, but rather the fact that this little band who knew scarcely anything of the art of singing were moulded into shape in three months and were capable of presenting a program that was remarkable.

Intervening between the Frolic and March 4, 1928, on which day the Glee Club was on the air over WSAI, a business meeting was held at which the election of officers took place with the following results: W. Nunn, President; J. Carroll, Vice President; W. Schmidter, Secretary; G. Rau, Manager; E. Schiltz, Librarian; J. Schuler and C. Kuhns, Local Publicity; G. Herbison, Publicity; and T. Burke, S. M., Faculty Advisor. According to numerous radio fans the numbers were well rendered and at present the Club is seeking to add more laurels to its crown.

Senior Class History

They'll try to be the best they know,
And come to their own in time;
An inner passion for this and that,
An aim to reach sublime;
A willing heart, a sturdy will
The mountain heights to climb.

FRESHMEN

IN September of the year 1924 one of the Prep's largest classes enrolled for the Freshman year. During this initiatory period they were merely feeling their way, trying to get acquainted with the lay of the land. A number had come from grammar school imbued with a terrifying conception of high school life.

During this first year these green students were storing up knowledge as spectators rather than as participants in anything of importance. Perhaps their cheering helped the Flyers to a successful season, the first of Dayton's truly famous teams.

The close of the year found them more or less accustomed to high school life and a tinge of regret crept into the vacation farewell of more than one student.

SOPHOMORES

In the fall it was an overbearing class that returned with eagerness to renew old friendships and resume studies.

They were immediately initiated into the itch of the khaki flannel and were issued uniforms that despite all efforts refused to fit. Throughout the year all avowed a hate for the training and everything connected with it, but some of them entered military week with a secret pride of their ability to march and handle the rifle.

No student of this class will forget the first Haskell Indian game. A pass, a touch-down and Dayton's game, 6-2.

The class was there to see every step in the progress and advancement of the University. Alumni Hall was completed the first year and in the second the stadium was dedicated by a very successful football season.

JUNIORS

The class had come to the parting of the ways. Some failed to return, some took Commercial and the rest continued with the Academic course. A good number of the class found berths on the Prep teams. Shorty Holzemer was elected to captain the football and Dick Boucek the basketball teams of next year.

In February an inter-class debate was held in which Class C wrestled the glory from B. A basketball tournament for the Juniors ended in a victory for Class A.

The year was rapidly closing. During the military revue in May the unit again fell short of a gold star rating. The sensation of exams filled this bunch as they realized that they were Seniors, sophisticated idols of the Prep department.

SENIORS

The class entered on the last lap with the goal looming up before them. The year also brought many changes. The beloved principal of the three preceeding years, George Ley, S. M., was transferred. His place was filled by Joseph Lattner, S. M.

Fortunately the first three years of the Prep department were removed to Catholic High and the Seniors were left in peace. For want of a better place the class was ostracized in the Ark, much to their own satisfaction and to the dismay of the faculty.

The Preps secured the services of Herb Hart as football coach and passed through a fairly successful season with but one defeat. Under the tutelage of Sam Hipa an excellent basketball combination was turned out.

The class was organized by Louis Reimbold S. M. who saw to it that the rings and pins were ready by the Christmas vacation. Vacation over, the remaining few weeks before the January Exams were spent in the customary cramming of forgotten lessons into lazy brains. For two days the campus was enshrouded in gloom, but when the tests were over the jubilant cries from the Ark revealed to the school that the Seniors were still there.

Time passed swiftly, and as the whirl of class activities cleared away June and graduation had arrived. Many a student blotted an unrestrained tear as he handed in his final exam paper. As those precious diplomas were passed out another milestone on the road of life was left behind. Humor, wit and tragedy are closely knit in those four years of high school. As the final class of the Preparatory Department was graduated the Emanuel Library was dedicated to the success of the future of the University.

VINCENT A. AUFDERHEIDE

"Vin" Dayton, Ohio

Vin is an undertaker of nocturnal exploits; question him about some of them, they're good news articles. He is well known on the campus; his smile does it. What happened to that bear-skin coat Vinnie?

JOSEPH P. ANGERER

"Joe" Dayton, Ohio

Joe's forte seems to be presidencies; perhaps he has an eye to politics. He is also a crack athlete and orator. If one jumped to conclusions we would say, that's how he established himself in Frisco.

President Senior Class; Vice President of Monogram Club; Football '26, '27; Tennis '27.

SANFORD W. BITTNER

"Dottie" Sandusky, Ohio

One of the snappiest dressers on the campus, wears all ultra collegiate clothes and speaks the jargon. Can he dance? Ask any Sandusky members of the fair sex.

GEORGE H. BOEHMER

"Sheik" Sandusky, Ohio

A musical inclined lad who was a credit to our band and orchestra. George has a way with the fair sex as more than one Sandusky damsel knows.

Band and Orchestra '25, '26, '27, '28.

RICHARD J. BOUCEK

"Dick" Pittsburgh, Pa.

Captain of the hardwood outfit high scorer of the season, golfer supreme, and bridge addict incurable.

Monogram Club; Basketball '27, '28; Golf '28.

ANTHONY B. BUDDENDECK

"Tony"

Dayton, Ohio

Here is a student to imitate; quiet, industrious, and has with all a sense of humor. Tony is seen driving a Whippet in the general direction of-er-ah-well anyway quite frequently.

WILLIAM A. BROWNE

"Bill"

Greenville, Ohio

The darkhorse of the football team. He was very aptly referred to in the social circle as "Grand Slam Browne" for his ability at the card table and on the gridiron fell little short of being uncanny

Football '27; Monogram Club.

RALPH P. BURDG

"Burgy"

Dayton, Ohio

The Horse Haggerty of Basketball. Burgy surely can handle himself on the court. Ralph is mighty popular even if he isn't good at public speaking; maybe he has "it."

Monogram Club; Basketball '28.

HUGH J. CAHILL

"Hughie"

Cincinnati, Ohio

Living portrait of the Arrow collar ads, Don Juan of the campus and is a clever quarterback in addition to his ability on the diamond.

Monogram Club; Baseball '27; Football '27; Senior Prom Committee.

PATRICK H. CAIN

"Pat"

Nashville, Tennessee

A product of the sunny south of old Irish descent. Pats dixie smile lightened many a tiresome task were it the daily football grind or the long hours spent in class.

Monogram Club; Football '27.

JOHN R. CONNELLY

"Jack" Dayton, Ohio

If Jack can't handle the automatic rifle, no one else can. No, he's not a gunman; but he's well known just the same. Wherever you go someone asks, "Do you know Jack Connely?"

THOMAS A. CLAYTON

"Tom" Dayton, Ohio

Have you ever known anyone to think more than they say?—here's one. Tom reminds us of a politician also named Clayton. He has a philosophical mind—reason is Latin.

JOHN G. COTTER

"Garrett" Dayton, Ohio

What would the Latin class be without Garrett? What would our English prof do without his afternoon debates? Alas the world would be a sadder, but not a wiser place.

Monogram Club; Football '27.

CHARLES L. DANSARD

"Charlie" Monroe, Michigan

Charlie has the unique distinction of being a popular fellow with both the students and teachers being one of the brightest stars in the social, business, and athletic firmaments of the school. A scholar an athlete and a true friend.

Basketball '27, '28; Treasurer of Senior Class. Prep Annual Business Manager; Senior Prom Committee; Monogram Club.

JOSEPH DE VILLA

"Joe" Mexico City, Mexico

Joe hails from the land of cactus, revolutions, and sombreros but never the less he is one of the most congenial chaps on the campus.

EUGENE U. EIFERT

"Eggy"

Dayton, Ohio

"Egg" is a student to whom we all doff our hats. A person, who without an effort can wear a smile everyday is worthy of recognition. Combined with his angelic voice,—

BARRY J. DWYER

"Barry"

Dayton, Ohio

A keen performer with the racket, an accomplished musician, a talented orator, an aggressive tackle, and a prominent committee-man.

Band and Orchestra '25, '26, '27, '28; Monogram Club; Annual Staff; Football '27; Senior Prom Committee; Tennis '27.

LEONARD J. ENGLE

"Len"

Dayton, Ohio

"Got a cigarette Len?" is a common phrase. Len is, altho he resigns daily, the commissary department in 4th A. Len is also an authority on tomatoes; ask him any questions or see Mr. Z—.

REINHOLD WIESNER

"Wiesie"

Dayton, Ohio

Always has been popular and a leader in the class. He was behind every move in the sodality and was a big factor in all successful movements. He has great ambitions, and we bet he attains them.

JAMES C. EVANS

"Jimmie"

Girard, Ohio

The fact that this lad is Irish should suffice but as a further explanation let it be said that he was witty, jovial, and very popular among his fellow students.

CARL E. DEPENBROCK

"Dep"

Newport, Ky.

A lover of the old school, a real wit and a brilliant student. Dep was synonymous for dependability, friendship and humor, and always wore a cheery smile which radiated good fellowship to every corner of the campus. "Dep" was also a great asset to the football team.

Football '27; Monogram Club; Annual Staff.

KENNETH E. DEIS

"Ken"

Dayton, Ohio

Ken has an affinity for coal piles, although judged by appearances one would hardly think so. "Kenny" is a decoration in any class how much more so in ours.

CHARLES T. DOUDICAN

"Chas"

Dayton, Ohio

Here's a boy who can locate anyone's seat but his own. "Chas." has many accomplishments: between the prof's sentences he tells us all the new gags sprung at Keiths.

JAMES J. DREW

"Jimmie"

Mansfield, Ohio

A friend to all and master of the gentle art of ice skating. Holds the honorable degree of B. T. I. Z. W. or broke through ice in zero weather.

CLIFFORD A. DUNHAM

"Cliff"

Lakewood, Ohio

"Cliff" was new this year but it was not long before his good natured wit and ready smile had gathered a multitude of friends. A loyal backer of the basketball team and bridge player de luxe.

JOHN R. FERREE

"Chink"

Dayton, Ohio

Well, do we have gold medal winners,—that is in a scholastic way; per example John R. Chink is a burner of the midnight oil. In regard to geometrical difficulties, see him.

CHARLES W. FEDDERS

"Q. E. D."

Covington, Ky.

Distinguished geometry student whose presence was always necessary in order to complete a theorem. Charlie holds the high game record having lost all count on broken chairs.

Monogram Club; Football '27; Basketball '28.

OTWAY J. FICKER

"Ot"

Dayton, Ohio

If predictions were in order we would say that "Ot" will be a good husband some day. He seems to be a peaceful, home-loving person. His popularity proves that embellishments in the shape of red flags are not necessary to draw attention.

Monogram Club; Football '27.

CHARLES E. FORD

"Henry"

Dayton, Ohio

"Henry" is a 1928 model from four wheel brakes to gear shift. He holds all records for classroom naps; but is never caught sleeping. How does he do it? We don't know, he won't divulge the secret.

JOHN B. FROEHLE

"Froch"

Dayton, Ohio

Small in stature but what he lacks in size he makes up in courage. Has a winning way with the fair sex. He owns the hardest driven Ford on the campus.

ELMER J. GLASSMEYER

"Tiny" Cincinnati, Ohio

His career was a most glorious one. Undoubtedly one of the most popular students, the backbone of the football team, business genius, and popular choice of the students for all responsible positions. Who's the pretty little girl from Norwood Tiny?

Football '26, '27; Track '27; President of Monogram Club; Vice President Senior Class; Prep Annual Editor; Publicity Manager '26, '27; Prep Editor U. D. News; Exponent Staff '26; Chairman Senior Prom Committee.

JOHN A. GABEL

"John" Columbus, Ohio

Another wanderer in the field of music. John knew his stuff as Dep would say for he surely contributed a lot of pep.

Band and Orchestra '25, '26, '27, '28.

LAWRENCE J. GLASER

"Birds" Dayton, Ohio

Ambition to the nth degree, for in addition to his class work he has labored diligently in one of our foremost banking houses and amusement palaces.

ARTHUR C. GEIER

"Art" Dayton, Ohio

Mentioning some of the best shots in the class. Mr. Geier ranks among the first. Art's accuracy with erasers is uncanny just as his accuracy in geometry is remarkable.

RAYMOND A. GROVE

"Ray" Dayton, Ohio

Beau Brummel of the campus. Possesses those magnetic qualities that make him irresistible to Dayton's female populace. A member of the Prep gridiron outfit for two years.

Track '27; Football '26.

NEVIN HIPPLE

"Hip"

Dayton, Ohio

"Hip" was a new member but it wasn't long until he was oriented. His earnestness should carry him far on the road to success.

JAMES E. HAYES

"Jim"

Covington, Ky.

Jim is a rather quiet chap but certainly can hold his own with anyone for he is skilled in the gentle art of self-defense, having been a frequent performer on the canvas.

JOHN W. HOLZEMER

"Shorty"

Columbus, Ohio

Captain of the gridiron outfit, star basketball player renowned. A great athlete, a great pal, and a true friend.

Football '26, Captain '27; Monogram Club; Basketball '28; Baseball '27, '28.

STEVEN J. HOOK

"Fish"

Augusta, Ky.

From way up in Augusta; Steve has only been with us one year but his drawling voice and pleasant smile serve as some of the brightest memories of the year.

GEORGE C. HOROBIN

"Red"

Dayton, Ohio

Red is another beacon to another land where Virgil is imbibed in the shape of sugar coated pills. "Red" argues that Latin is not necessary in an engineers life.

Track '27.

HOWARD C. ISLEY

"Howard" Ft. Thomas, Ky,

A second Paderwiski; has done much to pep up the atmosphere due to his remarkable talent at the piano. Sings exceedingly well and has a sunny disposition.

NORBERT B. HUNTER

"Norb" Dayton, Ohio

Factionousness and seriousness so closely bound together makes it difficult to distinguish the one from the other. However, Norb doesn't worry, if he can find a new subject for a laugh.

EMMETT R. KEANE

"Emmet" Dayton, Ohio

Emmet specialized in football and track but was more widely known for his ready Irish wit and great drilling ability.

Football '26, '27; Monogram Club; Track '27.

CHARLES R. Kemper

"Charlie" Dayton, Ohio

The mechanical genius among seniors. Charlie can mend any door, window, car, radio or what-not in existence. His Chevvy has a musical backfire from it's association with the driver.

Tennis '27.

JOSEPH H. KINZIG

"Joe" Dayton, Ohio

Joe knows how to pass away the English course. Don't doubt it, results tell. He has scholastic tendencies; the explanation lies in his partner.

JOHN F. KLEIN

"Joke"

Dayton, Ohio

L'Allegro personified. If you want to hear someone make a bright one say something to "Joke." Don't ask how he acquired the alias; that's a deep, dark secret.

VINTON C. KIRK

"Vinnie"

Dayton, Ohio

"Vinnie" is well known about the campus. He has an agreeable, though independent character and has won quite a name for himself.

Football Manager '27; Monogram Club.

VINCENT W. KLOSTERMAN

"Klosty"

Dayton, Ohio

Slinger of malteds par-excellence, and punctuality personified. We don't believe that "Klosty" will be late for his wedding even if he does have to walk a long distance. "A smile will go a long, long way."

RICHARD S. KOEHLER

"Dick"

Dayton, Ohio

Dick is a Dutch student; "nicht war." He has a cheerful sunny disposition, derived from his environment. "Oh those corduroys! and he brushed back his curly locks."

ELWOOD G. KOORS

"Coosy"

Dayton, Ohio

A representative of Prep Basketball and of the famous "29." He's another punctual scholar? But the early bird doesn't always get the worm; besides who wants the worm anyway? "Coosy" doesn't, he always looks for bigger and better things.

Basketball '28.

DONALD H. KREUSCH

"Don"

Dayton, Ohio

"Don" is sure some musician. He has already made a name for himself in the city as one of the best. Besides he is a fine chap and liked by all.

Band and Orchestra '25, '26, '27, '28.

THOMAS H. KORTE

"Tom"

Dayton, Ohio

Spricht er Deutsch! Und wie! Tom made quite a reputation for himself being a real student and a remarkable linguist. Tom was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

JOHN T. KRICK

"Jumpy"

Parkersburg, W. Va.

Master of the violin. Led the list when it came to the broad jump, and business associate of one Celina whirlwind.

Band and Orchestra, '25, '26, '27, '28; Track '27.

NORBERT J. KRIMM

"Norb"

Dayton, Ohio

Norb is a laughing cavalier. He always laughs when he makes a brilliant statement; not that he isn't serious. Oh my no! He deplores the accusation.

JOHN M. KUGELMAN

"Isaac"

Lima, Ohio

Small but mighty, a great Shakesperean student with a vocabulary extensive enough to cope with anyone. The tongue is mightier than the sword.

PAUL E. LEINESCH

"Sunbeam"

Dayton, Ohio

His nick-name describes him fully. Look at his picture and judge for yourself. Oh! that smile that makes them blush. "Froch's" running mate.

CLARENCE F. LEIBOLD

"Lee"

Dayton, Ohio

Lee is a real student and is beyond doubt one of the most widely known seniors on the campus. His sunny smile and kind disposition have won many friends for him.

ELWOOD S. LINS

"Linsy"

Dayton, Ohio

A student of rare genius is "Linsy." He reads and the most intellectual types. That's how the Byronic look was gained. He has among his other accomplishments the fine art of checker playing.

EDWARD G. LOGES

"Kid"

Dayton, Ohio

George the irrepressible can't be downed with a look or more material missiles. The "Kid" is our smallest member but small only in size; his mind and voice are large.

ROBERT F. MAGLY

"Maggie"

Dayton, Ohio

The answer to a maidens prayer. A brilliant ten pin artist having high scores in Dayton's foremost alleys. The wit and beauty of 4th Commercial.

Band '25, '26, '27, '28.

DANIEL R. MCCARTHY

"Mac"

Dayton, Ohio

A poem of nature. The wise cracker of the campus. He possesses all the characteristics of his countrymen, especially a pleasing personality.

ROBERT L. MCBRIDE

"Bob"

Dayton, Ohio

A dashing halfback, literary genius and a man of no acquaintances, but every friend identifies Bob. He's a debator, and a real student whether English, Russian, or Sanskrit.
Football '27.

JAMES J. McNALLY

"Mac"

Springfield, Ohio

"Mack's" case is where actions speaks louder than words. A pleasing personality hidden behind a smile that dazzles the fair sex.

PAUL J. MEINERS

"Jerk"

Cincinnati, Ohio

Looks serious but isn't for his sense of humor is one of the keenest. A member of the inseparable triangle and boon companion of two notorious seniors.

ROBERT L. MERZ

"Bob"

Dayton, Ohio

The bookkeeping shark of 4th Commercial. "Bob" lives up to the old saying "Looks are deceiving." An abundance of mischief is concealed under his solemn countenance.

JAMES M. MULHALL

"Jim"

Owosso, Michigan

A keen lad from the trackless waste's of northern Michigan with a leaning for dancing and bridge.

Football '27, Monogram Club.

RICHARD C. MILLER

"Dick"

Dayton, Ohio

Here's a boy that has made himself known all over the campus. He has tooted his horn all the way from the Ark to Brown Street. There seems to be something serious hiding in his mind, who knows?

Band '25; '26, '27, '28; Orchestra '25, '26, '27; Golf '27, '28; Monogram Club.

AUGUST MUNCHEL

"Gus"

Oldenburg, Indiana

One of the natives of the Hoosier state with a ready wit and a keen sense of humor. From past indications Gus has shown himself to be a clever performer with the quill receiving three letters a day in the same handwriting.

MATTHEW S. MURRAY

"Mat"

Dayton, Ohio

Mat is our engineer from Missouri. He gave two years assistance to the football teams and many more to the assistance of his friends. We're with you Mat.

HOWARD W. MUTH

"Moody"

Dayton, Ohio

"Moody" certainly lived up to his nickname for he was a lad of moods. However, all of them were pleasant ones and all who knew him claimed him a prince of laughter.

CHARLES F. PAQUELET

"Pack"

Dayton, Ohio

An athlete of no mean ability who has shown to advantage on the gridiron and court. A snappy dresser who always rated high with the fair sex.

Monogram Club; Football '27; Basketball '28.

NED R. NIEMIC

"Ned"

Detriot, Michigan

He hails from the auto city. He possesses a calm personality that is bound to win him success. As a student he rates with the best.

CHARLES F. PAULY

"Parrot"

Dayton, Ohio

"Parrot" was another speaker of note being a member of the winning team in the annual Washington-Lincoln debate. He was always a favorite among his classmates.

CHARLES J. PFANDER

"Fannie"

Dayton, Ohio

He has a quiet, inspiring character. You would rarely suspect his presence, but he's everywhere just the same. He was the backbone of the "Ark Ramblers."

GEORGE W. PFEIFFENBERGER

"Georgie"

Dayton, Ohio

George was a second Henry Clay when it came to speaking or debating for his rolling voice and booming eloquence brought scores of honors to their owner.

ROBERT F. REBOULET

"Ribs"

Dayton, Ohio

One of the shining lights of fourth high C. Bob was a lad of merit for he worked and played with such a will that he probably will succeed in anything he undertakes.

WALTER V. PIEKUTOWSKI

"Peck"

Dayton, Ohio

Walter is not only a good student and a congenial companion but he also knows more about radio than its inventor. He's quiet and peaceful and never broadcasts his wares, but he certainly knows his stuff.

RICHARD F. REDMAN

"Dick"

Dayton, Ohio

Dick's a quiet, amiable chap who succeeded in getting off with the class honor medal every year. You should see him play basketball.

Class secretary; Annual Staff.

PAUL J. REMAKLUS

"Farmer"

Celina, Ohio

Paul Whiteman's only rival, a master of jazz. This has been proved on more than one occasion. Possesses a keen business mind. How's your crops?

Band and Orchestra '25, '26, '27, '28.

PAUL J. ROSSELOT

"Tot"

Glendale, Ohio

A student of the first water. Paul stood at the head of the class throughout the year and proved his knowledge to all, and sundry, being an honor student for two years.

WILLIAM J. RUETH

"Boots" Dayton, Ohio

He made his mark in the band. He also has an insatiable curiosity which should lead him to greater things. Good luck.
Band '26, '27, '28.

ARTHUR C. ROUTZONG

"Art" Dayton, Ohio

Little but mighty. "Art" was the one who caused the success of the "Ark Ramblers." He is an elocutionist supreme, and a whiz of a scholar.

RICHARD J. RYDER

"Dick" Dayton, Ohio

Dick spent four years on the campus but never attracted any attention by making noise, on the contrary he was a quiet chap who accomplished much while others supplied noise.

HARRY J. SCHELLHAAS

"Shell" Dayton, Ohio

We recommend Harry for the stage. He has a wit and humor that can't be beat. But still he is a serious fellow and has hopes of climbing the high ladder of success.

ROBERT W. SCHLEMAN

"Bob" Dayton, Ohio

Good natured smiling "Bob." He came to the school in '26 to spend the junior year. Always active, he is a real tribute to the school on the hill.

Monogram Club; Football '27.

LEO N. SPATZ

"Dough"

Dayton, Ohio

He has been a familiar character on the campus for four years and during this time he won many friends. His ability to debate has won many arguments in his favor. Always a leader in his class.

Annual Staff.

CLARENCE P. SOMSEL

"Sam"

Dayton, Ohio

Sam has an excellent personality, plus attractive light hair. He is an industrious student and is high in the estimation of all down in the Ark.

HOWARD V. STALEY

"Whitie"

Dayton, Ohio

Range 600 yds; target enemy machine gun, indicate danger zone and give number of sights from reference point. Whitie was a crackerjack when it came to answering military questions and we feel confident he will be a great officer some day.

ROBERT L. STALEY

"Bob"

Delaware, Ohio

William Jennings Bryan's logical successor. Bob can really hand it out. Just a case where production is greater than consumption. However, in spite of being such a famous raconteur he was well liked and always welcome to any gathering.

CLETUS J. STENGEL

"Cleo"

Miami, Florida

A native of that drowsy clime where the sweet scent of orange blossoms is carried forth on every breeze. Cleo seems to have brought along a little of that Southern atmosphere.

EDWARD J. SCHOEN

"Ed"

Chicago, Illinois

Ed believes that noise is not essential to success for although a quiet chap he was one of the best students in his class.

Track '27.

MARTIN P. SCHULZE

"Abie"

Dayton, Ohio

The high frequency boy from the Ark. He's like a Ford; starts slow but stops for nothing. He showed his ability in the track meet when he won the mile run in '27.

JAMES C. SCHUMACHER

"Jimmie"

Dayton, Ohio

Here is another lad who was interested in intramural sports. A fine gentleman from Oakwood and studious too. There must be a high place for this young man.

WILLIAM J. SELHORST

"Bill"

Coldwater, Ohio

A muddy field, moleskins and cleats are Bills idea of how to spend an enjoyable day. His fast charging opened many a gap in the opponents line.

Monogram Club; Football '27.

THOMAS C. SHERIDAN

"Tommy"

Dayton, Ohio

Good natured smiling Tom. Through his good nature he has reached the pinnacle of popularity to which many aspire. Good luck "Tommy" you'll get there.

Band '25, '26, '27, '28.

EDWARD W. TANCRED

"Dub"

Dayton, Ohio

A live wire in all the intramural sports. He was also a great scholar and a friend to every one on the campus. Success to you "Dub."

MALCOLM TIER

"Mac"

Detroit, Michigan

Mac was a new member on the campus coming here to finish his high school career. His friendship was readily accepted. Specializes in ball-room shuffles.

JOSEPH C. THIEM

"Joe"

Cincinnati, Ohio

Joe showed his business ability on more than one occasion during the two years he was basketball manager. He also possessed quite a bit of ability on the diamond.

Monogram Club; Basketball Manager '27, '28.

CHARLES F. WECKESSER

"Wecky"

Dayton, Ohio

Charlie was never seen on the campus without his "good ole pipe." His attachment to it is also symbolical of his friendship for although he is always making new friends, he never loses an old one.

HENRY J. WESTBROCK

"Henry"

Dayton, Ohio

He conducted the 4th High C sodality like a Bishop. A pleasant fellow and well thought of by all of his class. He aims high and will bear watching.

Senior Prom Committee.

FRANK E. WILLHELM

"Willie"

Dayton, Ohio

Ask him how to play golf, he knows. Also ran away with all the honors in the elocution contest, and is a mainspring in the intramural events.

Band '25, '26, '27, '28; Golf '28.

ELMO M. WILLHOFF

"Elmo"

Coldwater, Ohio

A typical country lad paving his way for a successful career in the big city. He won fame and popularity on the gridiron and was a mainstay on the court team.

Football '26, '27; Basketball '28; Baseball '27; Monogram Club.

Senior Prom Committee

FOR years it has been the custom of each Prep graduating class to hold their annual Senior Prom during the balmy June weather just preceding the commencement exercises. This year the big social event will take place on Friday evening June the eighth. Picture to yourself if you can, the soft silver rays of a June moon bathing scores upon scores of enraptured dancers as they glide along to the rhythmic beats of a melodious orchestra. Picture to yourself (if your mental camera is not worn out by this time) the little squeals of delight as the fair girl friend receives her favor which will serve as a useful as well as a fond reminder of the occasion. Ponder on the friendly spirit that will prevail for every fellow there will be a friend of at least four years acquaintance. Imagine if you can how impressive the last meeting of your friends will be on this occasion of the last meeting between most of the graduates.

The Prom committee which was composed of Elmer Glassmeyer, Chairman, Hugh Cahill, Barry Dwyer, Charles Dansard, Richard Miller and Henry Westbrook labored unceasingly in their efforts to promote a better, larger and more magnificent Senior Prom than any held in the past.

The Class also takes this opportunity to thank the many friends and patrons whose kind cooperation was such a great factor in the success enjoyed by the Prom.

The Annual Staff

IN September of 1927 each one of the four Prep senior classes elected two of its members to the Prep Annual Staff. These representatives then held another election in which they selected Elmer Glassmeyer as Editor, Charles Dansard as Advertising Manager and Paul Rosselot as Business Manager.

As to the immediate success of the Annual not enough praise can be given to our efficient Editor, Elmer Glassmeyer. It was through his untiring efforts that the work on the Annual turned out to be such a great success. In order to appreciate the amount of work and time expended by him one must view the construction from start to finish. Those who are acquainted with such work can readily appreciate the diligence and amount of painstaking effort required to complete it.

Charles Dansard gave a very good and forceful demonstration of his knowledge gained through the commercial course for his shrewd judgment and keen business mind always proved equal to the occasion, whenever any call was made for commercial acumen.

Paul Rosselot: The financial end of any business proposition is always a thing of vital importance for without it nothing could succeed. It fell to Paul's lot to go out among the business men of the city and sell advertising space in the Annual. He enjoyed remarkable success in this field as many ads were obtained by him.

Richard Redman undertook the writing of the Class History and Barry Dwyer efficiently discharged his duties in writing up the clubs. Reinhold Wiesner, Clarence Leibold, and Leo Spatz were given the task of writing up the seniors and did so in such a successful manner that we know their absence will be keenly felt by the succeeding Prep publishers.

Prep Monogram Club

AFTER a cessation of activities that lasted two years the Preps again organized a Monogram Club in the Fall of 1927. The kind permission of Brother Joseph Lattner, our principal enabled the Preparatory Department to reorganize a very active and useful group.

At the first call thirty-five winners of athletic awards responded. An election was held and Elmer Glassmeyer was unanimously chosen as President, Joseph Angerer as Vice President, and Joseph Thiem as Secretary-Treasurer. The voting members comprising the club are recipients of awards for football, basketball, baseball, track and golf as well as the student managers of those activities.

Many functions are being planned by the club which will strengthen the bands of friendship between the members, and promote true sportsmanship. Many of the students will separate this year for this year's Monogram Club will probably be the last of which the Prep department will boast due to the elimination of all day students from the campus.

The purpose of the organization is to keep in close contact those men whose efforts and ambitions are all toward one goal, the supreme athletic prestige of their school and the nourishment of the feelings of devotion and loyalty that their school inspires.

The growth and enthusiasm shown by its members have placed the organization as one of the leading clubs on the campus.

Orators and Essayists

THREE years ago Mr. Joseph Abel established prizes for an elocutional contest to be conducted annually in the Preparatory Department. This year the interest and enthusiasm displayed by the students was indeed surprising. By a series of eliminations the number of eager contestants was cut down to less than a dozen. The finals were held on December 18, 1927, under the direction of Mr. S. J. Emerick.

Joseph Angerer was unanimously chosen the winner for his delivery of Service's "The Faceless Man." John Foley slipped away with the second honors with "The Soldier Tramp." Robert Schlemann was given the next award for his stirring recitation of "The Cremation of Sam McGee."

The most important event of the senior year is the Lincoln essay contest. The Illinois Watch Company is the donor of a large medallion of Abraham Lincoln which is offered as an incentive to the students. This year the four best essays were picked by the teachers of the English classes. The compositions of Barry Dwyer, Thomas Clayton, Arthur Routzong and Robert McBride were among that number.

The judge, Lawrence Boll, S. M., Ph. D., after much deliberation and weighty consideration picked the work of Robert McBride as the winner. His life of Lincoln was the most thoroughly developed and possessed a slightly better choice of diction than the others that were submitted.

In Appreciation

WHEN watching the Prep athletes perform in any sport we have always been loud in any praise of their ability and sportsmanship but many of us overlook the men behind the scenes who are responsible for the training and well being of our athletes.

Brother Aloysius Doyle was newly appointed to the office of Prep Athletic Director this year. However he filled his position in such a capable manner that we are forced to admire the shrewd judgment displayed by those who selected him for this office.

Hope ran high in the Prep department at the beginning of the year when it was announced that Herbert Y. Hart of varsity gridiron fame would coach the Prep football outfit. Mr. Hart proved to all and sundry that he was just as good a coach as he was a player for he introduced many trick plays and the zone defense, which quickly transformed the green Prep gridiron outfit into a fast charging, quick thinking machine that ticked off its plays with all the precision of a well regulated clock.

The hardwood outfit was very fortunate in securing the services of Samuel Hipa, another varsity star as basketball coach. Sam drove his charges at a rapid gait and succeeded in turning out a Prep quintet which equaled if not surpassed any of those produced in the past.

Another important and necessary cog in an athletic machine is the student manager. Vinton Kirk was appointed as football manager while Joseph Thiem was again given his old position of basketball manager. Both of these lads performed their duties in a way which spoke well for their business ability. It fell to their lot to make hotel accommodations, supply eligibility lists, send out contracts and look out after the needs of their team. Both are worthy of the praise accorded them.

Prep Football

AT the beginning of the year the outlook for a successful Prep football season was somewhat dimmed by the absence of Gene Hug former Prep mentor. After much deliberation and discussion it was finally decided that Herb Hart former Flyer luminary would take charge of the Prep team. With this news enthusiasm ran high and the horizon was much brighter.

After weeks of earnest preparation a representative team was whipped into shape for the opening encounter with Hamilton Catholic High on foreign territory. The game was a thriller from start to finish with the Preps coming out on top of a close contested contest 13 to 12.

Coach Hart was able to uncover much hidden ability, especially in Browne a half-back who proved a big asset in future games. The next week saw the Preps working strenuously in order to receive a call for action at Toledo where they encountered the strongest team on their schedule. The game was played under difficult circumstances for the Baby Flyers were greatly outweighed. At the final whistle the score was 30 to 6. Every member of the team played well and contributed much to keep the score as low as it was. Keane and Glassmeyer were the luminaries on offense and defense, breaking time and again to throw their rushing opponents for a loss.

The team again took to its task, this time in a more serious manner. Their next game was with the heavy St. Bernard team of Springfield. It was here that the Preps showed the result of hard work and masterful coaching. The Preps succeeding in holding their heavier opponents to a 6 to 6 tie. The playing of Captain Holzemer was exceedingly good for on numerous occasions he skirted the ends for large gains.

After this game Coach Hart was beginning to believe that his dream of having a smooth functioning squad had come true. The team more than proved this in their next game with Fairview in the Stadium. The Preps were handicapped by the loss of their stellar tackle, Glassmeyer, and relief quarter Cahill. Regardless of these conditions the Preps decisively overwhelmed their heavier rivals. At the final whistle they emerged from the field victoriously having romped through their opponents for a total of 27 points to the 6 scored against them. Again Captain Holzemer starred for the winners. His long runs and accurate passing were the features of the game.

The Preps enjoyed a two days rest before they again began active training for their last and second hardest game of the season with Xenia Central at Xenia. This game was played under the bewildering objections of the elements. After a close contest played in snow and mud the final whistle stopped the game with the score 0 to 0. Thus drew to a close the most successful season ever enjoyed by the Preps on the grid-iron. The following regulars will be lost through graduation in June: Browne, half-back; Willhoff, fullback; Angerer, tackle; Glassmeyer, tackle; Mulhall, end; Keane, end; McBride, halfback; Depenbrock, tackle; Schlemann, guard; Selhorst, guard; and Cain, guard and last but not least our able and strategic quarter-back, Captain "Shorty" Holzemer.

The crowd milled and surged about the morgue. A new body had been brought in. A murdered man.

Suddenly a dazed gentleman pushed and elbowed his way through the throng, and into the building. He spoke to the caretaker, and was admitted to the inner recesses.

Shortly he reappeared.

"Was he your brother?," asked the caretaker.

"Yes," came the sorrowful answer.

"But how did you identify him?"

The man wiped away a tear as he chokingly replied, "He was deaf."

STRIVE ALWAYS TO MAINTAIN THE MASTER FORMULA

Personal Honor

Absolute Reliability

Business Integrity

MANY years ago a crude substance used in manufacturing a certain product became scarce and its price excessive. So a junior engaged in the laboratory suggested an ingredient costing less and easier to get. This young man argued that by thus altering the formula a saving would be effected and nobody would know about it. The manufacturer explained that he would not hesitate to change the formula if an improvement could be effected, but the master formula used in every worthy business was personal honor and absolute reliability plus business integrity and that was the one formula which would not be changed.

*Yes, we too count

Fight Talk

Don't be discouraged, fellows. Everybody can't be on the team, you know. But you all have as good a chance as the next fellow. Just keep plugging and your turn will come. Let me tell you something.

Once there was a fellow out for football that nobody thought had a chance of making his letter. He was small and slight and didn't know anything about the game. All during his first three years of Prep school he played on the scrub team and sat on the bench during the games. Then came his last season and he was still on the scrubs and it looked as if he'd never make good. But, although he didn't know it, the coach had his eye on him and when the captain who was the star halfback got hurt during the Big game the coach decided to give this little fellow his chance. He only made two seventy yard runs and kicked a field goal the first fifteen minutes he was in there! Boy, that was a swell movie!

Connelly: "Did you hear about the football player who died?"

Hipple: No, shoot."

Connelly: "Left an estate of five hundred towels and a hotel key."

Cahill: "What kind of a car have you?"

Meiners: "I've got a Wreck."

Cahill: "A wreck?"

Meiners: "Yeah, Every time I park it a dozen people ask me if I've reported the accident yet."

(Heard in Chemistry Lab.):

"I see by the papers the traction company lost all their car barns by fire."

"Decarbonization by carbonization, so to speak."

(Paquet on returning to school after the holidays): "I had Ted to lunch, Marie to the theater and Helen to a dance—all in one day."

Mulhall: "Triple-threat man, eh?"

The Price of Silence

Dwyer: "Ever read the Pickwick Papers?"

Miller: "Naw, what do I care what goes on in these hick towns?"

Tiny: "I certainly told that girl what I thought of her."

"Dep:" "What did she say?"

Tiny: "She said she loved me too."

Physics Prof. (making assignment)
"Tomorrow start with lightning and go to thunder."

So the absent minded professor opened up his bed and jumped out the window.

Speaker (Excitedly): "Ladies and gentlemen, I ask you: Do I look like I decended from a monkey? Do I?"

Back seat wit: "No, ye don't now for a fact. Tell us how it happened."

Ryder: "If a Scotchman makes a lot of money and spends it all, what's his name?"

Sheridan: "Don't know. What is it?"

Ryder: "Bughouse. Just plain Bughouse."

Will: "She finally said that I might kiss her on either cheek."

Bill: "And of course you did?"

Will: "Well, I hesitated a long time between them!"

"Offisher, you'd better lock me up. I jush hit my wife over the head wish a club."

"Did you kill her?"

"Don't think so. Thash why I want to be locked up."

"If I had of known that we were going through such a long tunnel as that I would have kissed you."

"Good Heavens! Wasn't that you?"

"I tell you, sir, I have played in all the largest theatres in Europe."

"Yes, but they are nothing compared with the theatres that we have here in America."

"Why, sir, we have theatres so big that when a man in the last row throws an egg, it hatches before it reaches the stage."

The wise young girl who knows her onions never breathes a word of it to her boy friends.

Suggested slogan for bootleggers: "Not a coffin in a carload."

A recent letter received by a well known company that manufactures corn syrup:

"Dear Sirs: Though I have taken six cans of your guaranteed corn syrup, my feet are no better than when I started."

Nature never makes any blunders. When she makes a fool she means it.

Bullet: "Say, can your wife take a joke?"

Besch: "Well, they say that she married me alright."

Gitzinger: "What is the difference between an old man, a young man, and a worm?"

Sherer: "No difference. A chicken gets them all."

In the Social Whirl

Philosophy professor to Grace after said professor had been lecturing for about forty-five minutes: "Mr. Grace, punch Mr. McClear and wake him up."

Grace: "Wake him up yourself, you put him to sleep."

Our hero, Bob O'Brien,
Teaching class in '29
Flunked Math in '27
My God, what a climb!

It's too much rest after six A. M. that creates so much unrest after six P. M. in college.

—Wash. & Lee Mink

Gallagher: "Did you, or did you not, make love to this woman?"

Maxwell: "You'll have to ask my secretary he keeps all my records."

"Hey, Molly, this plate is damp," complained the student who was dining in the Stadium Smokery.

"Hush," whispered the fellow next to him, "that's your soup."

First impressions are said to be lasting. Anyone who has been stung by a hornet will swear to this.

A golden thought is expressed by Mark Twain as: "Let us endeavor so to live that when we come to die even the undertaker will be sorry."

Herbison: "Can you prove that this hair restorer is good?"

Barber: "See that clerk by the sponge case? Yesterday he pulled the cork out of a bottle of this hair tonic with his teeth. Today notice that he has a mustache."

"So the heiress refused Jack?"

"Yes its too bad. He made a fair proposition too."

"What was it?"

"He promised to be a good husband, and offered to refuse the money if he did not turn out exactly as represented."

Women who wear this years styles shouldn't sit on the front steps.

Customer: "You sent me a very small oxtail, Mr. Bloogs."

Butcher: "Ah, ma'am, if we butchers could only persuade the hox to hemulate the kangaroo!"

Statistics show that fewer farm boys are coming to the city. Maybe there is so much auto exhaust that they can no longer see the bright lights.

His Pal: "Shucks! I'm tired. Let's wait and look in the morning paper."

Prof: "What does reaching an agreement mean?"

Stud: "Reaching an agreement is when a woman decides with herself to do something against her husband's wishes."

A Crying Need

Vollmer: "Did you know that I was a cave man?"

Lou: "Oh, yes, it's obvious. The cave is in your brain."

O'Connor: "We're going to have a novelty dance at our house."

Bentz: "Yeah?"

O'Connor: "Yeah! No liquor allowed."

Major Rhinehart to Pesce: "And if you drill religiously every day—who knows—when the next war comes, you may be the unknown soldier!"

Hochadel to Kraft: "Stop sewing for a minute and lend me your thimble. Our guests wants a drink."

"McGarry fainted in his room, yesterday."

"Why didn't somebody give him a drink of whiskey?"

"Somebody did — just before he fainted."

"How is Joe Walters with the women?"

"Most of the time."

As George M. Cohan puts it: "Silence is the college yell of the school of experience."

"Are you a college graduate?"

"No, I slept in this suit last night."

"When Bowen, Breen and Co. were haled into court they offered the judge a five cent cigar."

"Well, what about it?"

"In passing sentence, the judge took both crimes into consideration."

Barber: "You're losing quite a bit of hair. In fact you're getting bald in spots. Have you tried our wonderful hair tonic?"

Kappeler: "No, that isn't the cause."

"Must you bring that up again?," asked Martzluft of his slightly oiled room mate.

"Did you hear of the dissention in the Ford family?"

"No, what's it all about?"

"Henry swears that he is going to give Edsel the works when he dies."

—Puppet

There's no question but that children received better marks in school when the hickory switch was used.

—College Humor

Bergan: "Is Carroll a good driver?"

Nunn: "Say, when the road and he turn at the same time, it's a coincidence."

So the Harvard professor approves of paddling freshmen! In his lecture he said: "Punish them on the highest level they can understand."

In 1950

"Where's Willie?"

"You'll simply have to speak to that boy. Really, he's been flying back and forth over the Atlantic all afternoon."

The number of questions that a co-ed answers in class varies inverseley as the number of telephone calls she answered at her rooming house the night before.

Cop: "Who was driving this car when it hit the other one?"

Drunk (triumphantly): "None of us; we were all in the back seat."

Before the train entered the tunnel he declared that the tunnel cost over a million dollars. When the train had emerged once more, she had decided that it was worth every cent of it.

Ask any chemist, "It's H-to-owe."

"I never saw you smoking a cigar before."

"Oh, no, you see I just picked it up recently."

"I lost my vanishing cream. Can you help me?"

"Why don't you look for it behind the invisible hairnets."

"Will you take gas," asked the dentist.

"Yes," answered the absent-minded motorist, "Better look at the oil too."

Just another one of those incongruities of college life is a married man receiving a Bachelor degree.

All the world loves a lover—except his rivals.

Most of our statues are erected to men that thousands once yearned to hang.

Oh, save all your sorrows
For Ferdinand Bepps,
Who walked down stairs
Without using the steps.

"Isn't the moon beautiful, dear?"

"Don't get romantic, big boy. You're just parked under a street light."

One thing that is nice about a trip around the world is the fact that you don't have to worry where the fare for your return ticket is coming from.

This world would be a much better place to live in if there were some way to provide switches for one-track minds.

She was only a photographer's daughter but she was well developed.

Ed Schiltz says that his girl is only an artist's daughter but she can surely draw a crowd!

It may be all right to know you're onions—but don't breathe it to a soul.

A bachelor is a man who looks before he leaps—and then doesn't leap.

"Do you know what Ford is figuring on now?"

"No, what is it?"

"Paper."

"I just got my Scotch boy friend's picture."

"How does it look?"

"I don't know yet. I haven't had it developed."

Eskimo papa: "Good heavens, daughter, is that fellow going to stay out there on the porch with you all night? He's been here three months already."

First drunk: "Shay, whawsh at shine shay?"

Second ditto: "It shays billiards."

First drunk: "Spell it."

Second imbibor: "B-I-L-L, hic, Q-I-A-R-D-S."

First drunk: "There ain't no 'Q' in billiards."

Second drunk: "Washa matter with you, do you play with a penshil?"

A college man is something that will notice a pretty ankle three blocks away while driving a motor car in a crowded thoroughfare in the city, but will fail to notice, in the wide open country side, the approach of a locomotive the size of a schoolhouse and accompanied by a string of fifty or so box-cars.

"Why do you call her 'Cigarette?'"
"Because she's my 'Old Gold' digger."

"Why the A on your sweater?"

"Because I'm on the football team."

"Ya, but don't you know that the Dayton U. fellows wear a D on their sweaters?"

"Oh, that's all right, you see I'm only on the second team."

Quarterback: "Take your elbow out of my eye."

Tackle: "Shut up, I'm running this joint."

Lady—Where does this road go to?

Small boy—I don't know. It is here every morning when I wake up.

At least one important American college will maintain its prominence next fall without the aid of a winning football team—the Electoral College.

They say that love is the biggest thing in the world but you can drown it in a pint bottle.

He (calling up): "Say, Marie, did anyone ever tell you that you were good-looking?"

She (excited): "Why, no!"

He (hanging up): "Thanks awfully; good night."

"Pass your exam?"

"Well, it was this way—"

"Neither did I. Shake."

Early to bed and early to rise would spoil the fun of a lot of guys.

"What is that thing on your neck?"

"Oh, that's only a freckle."

"Funny, that's the first time that I've ever seen a freckle walk."

A modern woman has been weighed and found wanting—everything under the sun.

Eleven Ohio Wesleyan students have been sent to Europe as an orchestra.

It looks as though even the dormitories couldn't stand their playing any longer.

Maxwell: "I wish I were a river."

Berk: "Why so?"

Maxwell: "Well, then, I could take my course without leaving my bed."

Or in the immortal words of Patrick Henry: "Give Liberty or an Exponent."

"We don't understand what you mean, professor."

"Well, just watch the blackboard closely and I'll go through it again."

When it comes to economizing you have to hand it to Bachmann. He smokes them so short that he uses the butts for a chew and the ashes for snuff.

Joe Stermer is reported to have worn a sweatshirt during the Greek exams.

Bergan suggests that we put all our jokes on tissue paper so that he can see through them.

When the Lord was passing out looks Connelley thought he said books and asked for a funny one.

They say that it is better for a frosh to remain silent and be thought a fool rather than speak and remove all doubt.

The main trouble with the colleges today is the fact that the professors do not recognize ability and the students do not possess it.

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to what the girls have been thinking about all winter.

"What is a synonym?"

"It is a word that college boys use when they can't spell the other word."

Schroder: "Do you like Beethoven's works?"

Hart: "Never visited 'em. What does he manufacture?"

"Come, see the mole I just caught!"

"I didn't know moles were contagious."

—Penn. State Froth

'Tis hard to part with those we love
When our hearts are full of hope;
But 'tis harder still to find a towel
When our eyes are full of soap.

—Puppet

Debesis: "Bill, lend me ten dollars."

Shorty: "Here is a five."

Debesis: "But I need ten."

Shorty: "Well, here's where we both lose five."

The Hochadels abundant mustache
Is apt to get mixed with his hash,
He simply won't harbor
The thought of a barber.

Little Boy Blue,
Come shoot your gun—
The villan's up to dirty work
And spoiling all the fun!

Doc. Molz: "Do I understand you to say that you do not believe in vaccination?"

Vollmer: "No indeed! Only ten days after a friend of mine was vaccinated a horse kicked him and broke his neck."

Do you know Kate, the suicide blonde?
The suicide blonde?
Yea, she dyed by her own hand.

Exam question: Give for one year the total coal output of the U. S.

Answer: 1491—none.

Kind old lady—giving a small boy a penny: "And now what does a polite little boy say when he is given a penny?"

"Lady, I'm too polite to tell you."

"I hear you neck."

"Sorry, I'll try to be more quiet next time."

The First of the Month

"Why do poets call it the silver moon?"

"Must be because of the quarters and halves."

"Ah want a quote of scantified milk."

"Whut you all means is pacified milk."

"Look heah, when ah needs inflammation, ah'll specignificate."

"So he first met her in a revolving door?"

"That's how they began going around together."

Little city girl in the country—Oh, listen! the cow is mooing to sell her milk!"

"My grandfather has a hickory leg."

"That's nothing, my sister has a cedar chest."

If shorty were the last man on earth,
You still couldn't call it a dearth,
For with such great dimensions
Four could share his attention.

Time and tide wait for no man, but a woman will wait for him until some other man comes along.

An old fashioned home is one in which the women must smoke in the bathroom.

"Sir," said the co-ed quite haughtily,
"either take your arm from around my waist or keep it still. I'm no banjo."
